

CHANEY SUES FOR A BIG JUDGMENT

Asks $19,000 in Cross Complaint in Case of Walter E. Smith Against
George Billings

HOLDS FIRST MORTGAGES

Alleges His Were Executed Prior to
Those Given to Mr. Smith—Notes
Are Past Due

Carlton Chaney, one of the defendants and alleged creditors in the various law suits pending against George Billings, Union township farmer who disappeared several months ago, has filed a cross complaint in a case of Walter E. Smith against Billings and others, in which he seeks judgment for $19,000.

The original suit filed several weeks ago by Mr. Smith against Billings and several others, was to foreclose on a mortgage, and among the defendants mentioned was Mr. Chaney.

The cross complaint filed today by Mr. Chaney alleges that the defendant Billings borrowed money from him and gave first mortgages on real estate, which was prior to the execution of mortgages obtained by Mr. Smith, and his cross complaint is to collect his part of the judgment, prior to the collection by Mr. Smith.

The cross complaint alleges that on March 24, 1924, he loaned Billings $7,500 on his promissory note, payable September 1 of this year, and that the note is past due. He seeks judgment on this note, with attorney fees and costs, totalling $7,500.

In the second paragraph, Mr. Chaney alleges that on March 25, 1924, another note was taken for $1,200, due September 1 of this year and unpaid. Also on the same date another note for $8,000 was given, and will be due November 25. On these notes, the second paragraph demands judgment for costs and attorney fees, totalling $11,500, or a combined total in the suit for $19,000.

In each case, the complaint alleges that as security Billings gave a mortgage on real estate, and sometime later a still further loan was advanced by Walter E. Smith, who is attempting to foreclose and collect and the purpose of Mr. Chaney's action is to attempt to show that his mortgage was filed first and should be paid first.

In the case of the Diggins Wire and Fence company of Anderson against Charles D. Morgan, judgment was entered this morning by agreement for $3,508.12 and costs. (Continued on Page Two)

OUSTING OF SENATOR BROOKHART PROPOSED

Iowa State Central Committee Will Decide Thursday Whether He Shall be Allowed to Remain

DENIES ANY IDEA OF BOLTING

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 1—Whether or not Senator Brookhart of Iowa will be ousted from the Republican party, will be determined at a meeting of the state central committee called for tomorrow R. B. Burnquist, state chairman announced today.

Burnquist called the committee meeting following Brookhart's attack on Charles G. Dawes, Republican candidate for vice president in Chicago yesterday.

Camp Perry, Ohio, Oct. 1—"I have no intention of bolting the Republican party," Senator Brookhart of Iowa said on his arrival here today. "I am merely striving to eliminate the stand-patters from a party that was led by such patriots as Lincoln and Teddy Roosevelt. Understand me, I refer to the original Teddy."

Brookhart was eager that his letter asking Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential candidate, be withdrawn from the campaign, should not be construed as an attempt on his part to repudiate the Republican party.

Brookhart said the proposed reopening of the senate investigation of the department of justice is very remote.

MERCURY AT FREEZE

Not Much Damage Done to Crops, in Opinion of Farmers

Mercury again hit the freezing point in Rush county during the night which was the second time in September that the freezing temperature was reached, and the freeze was accompanied by a heavy frost.

Although the frost and slight freeze was reported, it is not believed that any great damage was done, which was also the case a few nights ago when the slight freeze was reported. The coating of frost was clearly visible this morning on grass in the low places and also on house roofs, but most of the farmers stated that the frost did not contain any serious killing qualities, and that the freeze was not severe enough to do much damage.

LAST CHANCE TO REGISTER NEAR

November 4 Must Register on or

REGISTRATION FACTS

One Registration Day in
Rush County—Monday, October 6.

All who have changed precincts since the registration two years ago and all who have become of age since the last election should register.

It is necessary to register before you can vote.

Registration boards will be in session in every voting precinct of the county on Registration Day.

Attention is being called to the necessity of registration in order to be able to vote at the general election on Tuesday, November 4.

If electors not qualified to vote do not register in one of the three methods prescribed by law on or before next Monday, they will not be permitted to vote.

Some confusion has been created in the minds of voters by the Notices of Registration, which were sent here by the state board of election commissioners and posted by the election officials in each precinct.

The last poster contains this statement: "Every voter of the precinct is required to register October 6th, the same being 29 days before the election."

Some complaints have been made at the county auditor's office and in some quarters a disposition has been shown to blame the county auditor, Phil Wolk. He explains that these notices were sent all over the state by the election commission and this broad statement was made so that every voter would be aroused to get the facts regarding registration and determine whether he was qualified to vote.

To be sure, every voter should see that he is properly registered, as any voter who is not registered at the close of the registration booth at 9 p. m., October 6, cannot vote.

Voters may register in any one of the following ways:

1. By appearing in person before the precinct registration board on one of the above mentioned days.

2. By properly filling out registration blank before registration day, swearing to it before any officer authorized by law to administer oaths and having an official seal, or having it certified to by two voters residing in the registrant's precinct, and placing it in the hands of a voter residing in the registrant's precinct, who must deposit it with the precinct registration board on registration day.

3. By mail, when proper registration papers have been sworn to before any officer authorized by law to administer oaths and having an official seal, or certified to by two voters who reside in the registrant's precinct. If mailed, registration papers should be sent to the precinct registration board, in care of a member of the board and should reach

WATSON OPENS TOUR OF INDIANA COUNTIES

Makes First Speech of Campaign in Michigan City and Will Cover the Whole State

AT CONNERSVILLE NEXT WEEK

Senator James E. Watson of this city, opened his Indiana speaking tour with an address at Michigan City Tuesday night, and from now on until the close of the campaign, he will be engaged every day except Sunday in addressing Indiana audiences.

It has been announced that the senior senator from Indiana will be the principal speaker at an old-fashioned rally in Connerville next Monday evening, October 6, and that he will speak at Greensburg on Thursday night, October 30. Senator Watson will speak here towards the end of the campaign.

Senator Watson, the main speaker at the Michigan City mass meeting, attacked the campaign utterances of John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee. Watson quoted statistics which, he said, proved that the Davis assault on the tariff was unfounded.

Declaring that President Coolidge's reelection is a "foregone conclusion," Watson said the main aim of the Republican party should be to elect a congress that will back the president up in his policies.

WON INTERNATIONAL PRIZE

Part of Movement "Under Way to Place Rush County in Lead as
Seed Corn County

As a part of the movement under way to place Rush county in the lead as a seed corn county, a meeting will be held every two weeks for farmers of the county in Rushville, at which leading corn growers of the state will speak.

The first meeting of the series will take place Saturday afternoon, October 4, at two o'clock in the court house and L. Marshall Volgar, international corn champion of Hope, Bartholomew county, Indiana, will speak.

Mr. Volgar's corn won first at the International Corn show last year and also the sweepstakes at the Indiana Corn show. He also took practically all of the corn prizes at the Indiana state fair this year.

Mr. Volgar is thus entitled to be called the best corn grower in the world and the committee feels that the corn growers of this county are very fortunate in being given the opportunity to hear him. He will bring much new information of value to corn men.

A special invitation has been issued to principals and agricultural teachers of the schools of the county and they have been urged to persuade their students to attend the meeting, because it is certain that they can receive valuable instruction from Mr. Volgar.

Just now a campaign is under way to persuade farmers to select and save corn for seed because seed corn will be very scarce next spring, due to the fact that good corn crops are rare this fall. It is believed that if farmers can be made to see the value of saving corn for seed, they will profit immensely by selling seed corn at high prices.

HAWKINS FAILS TO APPEAR FOR TRIAL

Judge Geiger Orders Bond of Principal Defendant in Portland Mail
Fraud Case Forfeited

LAST SEEN IN CINCINNATI

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 1—Morton Hawkins of Portland, principal defendant in the Hawkins Mortgage Company mail fraud case, failed to appear in federal court today when the case was called for trial.

Judge Geiger ordered Hawkins' bond of $10,500 forfeited and continued the case until this afternoon.

Hawkins and eighteen other officers of the company and affiliated loan organizations are charged with defrauding home builders throughout the country out of $20,000,000.

Hawkins was last seen in Cincinnati at the Hotel Gibson last night, according to other defendants. It is not believed that District Attorney Elliot will consent for the case to go to trial without Hawkins. Elliot regards Hawkins as the master mind of the alleged scheme to defraud.

Attempts of various defendants to escape trial through legal technicalities failed.

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 1—Complete reorganization of the enlisted personnel of the Indiana National guard was foreshadowed today in a general order from Harry B. Smith, adjutant general to organization commanders.

Smith directed each officer to take immediate steps to "clear out the dead timber" and build up a more effective and stable organization. He told the organization commanders to weed out men who are lax in drill attendance or who have moved to other communities.

He called attention to the recent order of the militia bureau in Washington to stop enlistments to keep the guard within appropriations and told the organization commanders to weed out men who are lax in drill attendance or who have moved to other communities.

E. J. CHAMBERS SUCCUMBS TODAY

Former Resident and Farmer of Washington Township Expires at
His Home in Rushville

WIDELY KNOWN AS STOCKMAN
Served as First Chairman of Indiana
Live Stock Sanitary Board—
Owned Farm of 400 Acres

Edward J. Chambers, former resident and well known farmer of Washington township, died this morning shortly before eight o'clock at his home, 124 East Seventh street, this city, death being caused from heart trouble, with which he had been suffering for several weeks.

His death was rather sudden, and proved to be a shock to his numerous friends. Several weeks ago he took treatment at the Mayo sanitarium at Rochester, Minn., when his case was diagnosed as heart trouble.

He was a native of Bartholomew county, and was born May 18, 1870, being past 54 years of age. The deceased was educated in the schools of that county, and after the completion of his education, he took up farming with his father and remained there until 21 years of age.

He then went into the farming business for himself by renting a farm, engaging in feeding, stock raising and trading. In 1909 he moved to Rush county and purchased a farm of 240 acres in Washington township, and later increased his holdings to 400 acres, which he managed most successfully.

He was known over the state as one of the leading stock raisers, and in 1919 when the live stock sanitary board was created in Indiana, he was appointed by the governor to the board and served a term as the first chairman of that board.

He was married in 1906 to Ruby Grace Jones. In 1916 Mr. and Mrs. Chambers moved from the farm in Washington township to their residence in this city, where they since had resided.

The deceased was a member of the Main street Christian church, and in politics was a republican.

Besides the widow, the deceased is survived by his father and step mother, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Chambers of Columbus, Ind., four brothers, Charles and Guy of Bartholomew county, Thomas of south of Rushville, John H. of Maryland and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Fairchild of Denver and Mrs. Daisy Riggs of Bartholomew county.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at ten o'clock at the late residence, and burial will be made in a cemetery at Edinburg, Ind.

CITY TEACHERS ROTARY'S GUESTS

Entertain With Dinner and Short Program Tuesday Evening by Club Members and Wives

THE ARTISTS TRIO APPEARS

Judge Sparks Extends Greetings and Supt. H. B. Allman Responds in Behalf of Teachers

Teachers of the Rushville public schools were guests of the Rotary club Tuesday evening at the Social club for a dinner and short program afterwards.

Judge Will M. Sparks extended greetings for the club and wives of Rotarians, who were also guests, and H. B. Allman, superintendent of schools, responded in behalf of the teachers.

Two groups of songs and readings were presented by the Artists Trio, composed of Mrs. Clarence Walden of this city, vocalist; Miss Gleda Houghton of Connersville, reader, and Miss Brenda Kinsinger of this city, pianist, and each was given hearty applause.

Rotarians and their guests were summoned to the dining room of the club about seven o'clock by the piercing peals of a large bell similar to those that once did duty in the bellry of every school building. Each teacher was accompanied by a Rotarian and his wife.

Judge Sparks dwelt upon the opportunities and privileges that fall to the lot of teachers in guiding the lives of children and teaching them the fundamental truths of life.

Judge Sparks emphasized the importance of teachers being on the alert for the insidious propaganda that is being quietly started in the colleges and schools in favor of communism and socialism.

He called attention to a book that has been selected for reading circle work in Indiana which is a disguised defense of socialism and is solely for the purpose of poisoning the minds of students against American institutions and customs and our form of government.

"But thank God," said the judge, "this book was turned down in Rush county."

The speaker told the teachers that the Rotary club was vitally interested in the public schools because of their part in developing the citizens of the future and stood ready at any time to be of any assistance possible.

Supt. Allman expressed for the teachers their very keen appreciation of being recognized in such a manner and he said that he felt the teachers of the public schools would be better able to carry on their daily tasks with the knowledge that their

DOING BUSINESS AT OLD STAND TODAY

Postoffice Still in Masonic Temple,
But Final Transfer Will be Made
Tonight

PART OF FIXTURES MOVED

The Rushville postoffice was doing business at the old stand today.

But the room in the Masonic Temple building, that has been the home of the postoffice for ten years, was being abandoned today and by Thursday will be located in the Lollis hotel building, corner of Second and Morgan streets.

The postoffice equipment would have been moved during the night, but for the fact that representatives of the Kevless Lock company, who were sent here to move the fixtures, went to Shelbyville by mistake. A part of the fixtures were moved, however and more of them were taken to the new room during the day. Tonight the lock boxes will be removed and installed in the new location, and an additional section of lock boxes, which has been rented, will be installed.

Business as usual was the rule at the postoffice today and the chance was being made without any interruption in the postal service whatever. All was dispatched and delivered with customary promptness as if nothing was transpiring at the postoffice.

NO CEREMONY IS TO MARK THE ACCEPTANCE OF AIRSHIP ZR-3

By WILLIAM J. MEVOY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 1.—No ceremony is to mark acceptance of the ZR-3, the world's largest airship, when it is formally turned over to the United States by the German Government.

Delivery of the dirigible is regarded by Navy Department officials as the payment of a war debt and they do not believe there should be any show for such an occasion.

Early arrangements provide that the ZR-3 be met at sea by the Shenandoah and a squadron of airplanes and conveyed to the Lakehurst, N. J., landing field.

A small group of naval officers will be on the ground there officially to take over the airship on behalf of the United States government. Secretary Wilbur's presence at Lakehurst is contingent upon his arrival from the Pacific coast.

The ZR-3 was constructed by the Zeppelin Company at Friedrichshaven, Germany, under the watchful eye of three United States Navy experts. The Navy Department stationed Capt. George W. Steele, Lt. Commander Sidney M. Kraus and Commander Fulton Garland to follow the construction day by day. Steele was in charge of the detail. Kraus inspected the various engines of the craft while Garland scrutinized all construction work. All three were aboard during the several trial flights the airship made and also will be aboard when the flight across the Atlantic is made.

The ZR-3 was constructed for the United States under special authorization from the allied and associated powers. After the war, the Zeppelin company was restricted by the powers from building other than commercial airships of a gross capacity not greater than 30,000 cubic meters. This size was too small to warrant the effort of creating strictly commercial types. To cross the Atlantic in such a small ship would have been an impossibility, Naval officials believed.

Subject to the condition that it be not used for military purposes, the Powers permitted the construction for the United States of one rigid airship of a gas capacity of 70,000 cubic meters.

Under the negotiations entered into by the Navy Department and the Zeppelin company, the ship upon completion must be delivered to the U. S. Naval Air Station, Lakehurst.

The ZR-3 has been designed especially to accommodate passengers, and special attention has been directed to all factors involving convenience, strength and safety.

The general dimensions of the ship are as follows:

	Metres
Overall length	200
Maximum diameter	27.64
Maximum width (propellers horizontal)	27.64
Maximum height (including landing buffers)	31.00

The huge size of the ZR-3 may be pictured by considering the dimensions of the hangar at Lakehurst where it will be housed together with the Shenandoah. This hangar is the largest in the world and is of such enormous size that the capitol building here could be placed inside except for a small portion of the dome. The Woolworth Building in New York, if laid on its side, could be covered by the hangar with plenty of room to spare.

Designed especially for great endurance, five Maybach motors have been installed in the ship. The combined horsepower of the five motors is 2,000, capable of driving the craft at a speed of eighty miles an hour. They are of V shape and have 12 cylinders. All five motors may be reversed at the same time, so that the ship's forward progress can be halted very quickly.

Reversability feature was introduced in engines designed for the U. S. Navy submarine chaser, during the World War and this is the first time this feature has been incorporated in an aviation engine.

The ship has many refinements of design, the result of almost 25 years continuous effort on the part of the Zeppelin company. The equipment and accommodations for passengers are complete and comfortable. The vessel has space for 30 passengers. Sleeping accommodations compare favorably with the finest American Pullman cars. These quarters are arranged in the main cabin which is rigidly secured to the keel under the forward end of the ship. The passenger cabin is fitted with a modern kitchen, equipped with electrical stoves. The guests' room is divided into five compartments, each seating five persons comfortably. Quarters are geographically located so that mechanics and others will at all times be near the scene of their duties.

The ZR-3 also is fitted with bow mooring equipment so that it may be secured to a mast.

Based upon information from representatives at Friedrichshaven, Navy Department officials believe that ZR-3 will be able to make the air voyage from Germany to Lakehurst in about two and one-half days, should there be no great headwind. The exact route of the flight to the United States has not yet been determined. The stretch from Friedrichshaven to the east coast of the United States, a direct route is 3,500 miles. Should a southern course across France, passing Cape Finistere and the Azores Island to the Bermudas and northward to Lakehurst be taken, the ship will cover about 4,500 nautical miles. The southern route or a northern route passing south of Iceland and Greenland may be taken to avoid strong headwinds which are likely to be encountered in a direct flight.

The flight to America will be made without any intermediate stop and the ship will be navigated by an experienced personnel of the Zeppelin company. Dr. Hugo Eckner is to be chief of the expedition.

Guarding the ship on its trans-Atlantic voyage will be two U. S. Navy Battleships. These vessels also, will radio hourly weather bulletins to the ZR-3. On its voyage over, the craft will be inflated with hydrogen, which is in contradiction with the policy of the U. S. Navy to use helium gas for airships. It was explained, however, that the ZR-3 will be flown to this country under the direction and at the responsibility of the Zeppelin company and will not become the property of the U. S. government until its delivery.

The Navy Department has made

known that shortly after its arrival here, the craft will be inflated with helium. It will remain in the mammoth Lakehurst hangar for several weeks for a general over-hauling and tightening up after the voyage over the Atlantic.

According to Navy Department officials, Capt. Steele will assume command of the ship after its arrival. It will be used extensively as a training vessel by the Navy and the Army Air Service. No schedule of flights in this country has thus far been made by the Navy Department.

The Navy Department already has purchased spare parts, engines, girders and other equipment needed for replacements in operation. The parts were purchased from the Zeppelin company at cost of about $75,000.

Being built on condition that it would not be used for military purposes, the ultimate fate of the ZR-3 is not known. It may possibly be sold by the government to a commercial enterprise or may be turned over to the Post Office Department for use in the Air Mail Service.

He discussed the relationship between parents and teachers and called attention to the fact that though teachers were popularly credited with having children under their guidance more than parents, in reality pupils were under their control only about one-fourth of each day.

Supt. Allman placed the teacher first among the elements that make up the public school and also referred to the course of study, the physical equipment and organization.

He pointed out that the child learns more the first six years of its life than during any similar period and that parents, after all, have the most vital influence upon the lives of children, because they are in direct control when the child's first impressions are formed.

Supt. Allman pleaded for the same standards of morality and living that parents set up for themselves, instead of a separate standard for teachers.

The Artists Trio was given a most cordial reception. Mrs. Walden's solo work was especially pleasing and Miss Houghton's character sketches in costume were very entertaining. Insistent applause brought many encores to her selections.

Particularly apt was a reading, "Hats is Hats", in which she used a score of hats to describe the characters she represented. Miss Houghton's numbers in child dialect were very popular, as was one in which she depicted a typical sales girl in a department store.

Miss Kinsinger's piano number gave her a chance to exhibit her rare skill as a pianist and she was called back to play again. Miss Kinsinger played all of the accompaniments, a number of them being for Miss Houghton in readings.

The program closed with Miss Houghton reading "In Grandma's Time", and Mrs. Walden singing "Love's Old Sweet Song." Both were dressed in quaint costumes of almost a generation ago.

NINE DEATHS REPORTED IN PENNSYLVANIA FLOOD

Property Damage is Tremendous and Transportation Badly Interrupted Due to Washouts

MANY FAMILIES HOMELESS

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 1.—Flood conditions were prevalent in many sections in northern Pennsylvania today following the heaviest and most prolonged rain storm in years. Property damage is tremendous and transportation badly interrupted as a result of washouts and landslides.

Many families are homeless and several towns partly under water. Nine deaths in the anthracite region during the past 48 hours were directly attributed to the storm and the resulting floods and slides. An aged woman was drowned. Miners Mills, near here, when a bridge was washed away and a man was electrocuted in Wyoming county when he came in contact with a fallen power wire.

Two men were drowned at Jermyn near Scranton, when a bridge was washed away and two others were drowned at Mauch Chunk.

Two Catawissa trainmen were killed near Bloomsburg when a landslide buried a pusher engine on the Reading railroad.

William Collins, Wilkesbarre, was drowned in Bowman's Creek when his automobile was carried into the water by a landslide.

THREE COUNTIES JOIN IN SOYBEAN MEETING

The Tri-County Soybean meeting in which Morgan, Putnam and Owen Counties participated recently was an all-day picnic meeting, attended by 300 farmers and their families. This meeting was on the Lee Coffman farm in the corner where the three counties meet. These three adjoining townships are townships where it has been difficult to get to since they lie in the farthest corners of the counties. The demonstration consisted of a variety plot and talks were made by the county agents of the three counties. The success of the affair gives promise of making this an annual meeting place.

In order to spread interest in soybean growing and familiarize the growers with the merits of different varieties, a soybean demonstration was held recently at the Jenkins Bros. farm in Wayne County. Charles Meharry, Attica, Secretary of the National Soybean Growers Association, explained the characteristics and adaptability of six varieties which were on test. Mr. Meharry favored the Manchu as a general purpose bean. He also said the new Dunfield bean as shown by results on the Jenkins farm, gave promise of being one of the best varieties. Dunfield beans do not shatter so badly and last year yielded at the rate of 30 bushels per acre on this farm. Following the field inspection, Mr. Meharry led 50 farmers in a round-table discussion of the soybean situation.

Not Every Mouse Can Scare an Elephant

THERE is a legend that elephants are afraid of mice. The contrast is amusing. It tickles the funny-bone and interests folks. Hence, it gains belief. Yet circus men will tell you that there are many safer places than an elephant's pen for a mouse bent on bullying.

But the fable lives as persistently as another fiction—the one that advertised goods cost more than goods not advertised. Here, too, the truth is the other way around.

As a matter of fact, manufacturers who advertise, increase the demand for their goods, which naturally increases their production. This means that each article they make is made for less money than otherwise would be possible. This in turn means that they can sell for less.

Merchants who advertise, bring crowds of people into their stores. The more customers, the quicker the merchant's stock is sold, and the sooner his cash is available for reinvestment. All this means that he can afford to do business on a smaller margin of profit than the man who depends on fewer sales to pay expenses and give a profit.

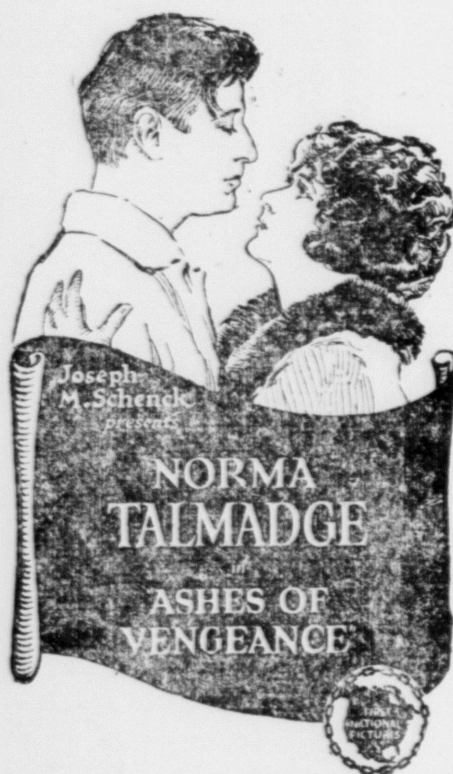

If you want to buy economically, buy advertised goods, and patronize merchants who advertise.

Advertisements tell you where to get your money's fullest worth

The lawyer's question:—Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?

Jesus' answer:—Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself. This do and thou shalt live.—Luke 10:25, 27, 28.

Food Prices and The Tariff

Ever since Calhoun became rancherous and repudiated his protective tariff stand, coming out for free trade, it has been the stock argument of those favoring free trade with other nations, directed to city and town dwellers, that a protective tariff on farm products increased the cost of living to the man who did not raise his own produce.

This argument, together with a division among the protectionists, won the election for those who advocated free trade in 1912. In 1913 they put their tariff policy into operation, placing practically all farm products on the free list, except a few raised in the south, and fixing others at extremely low duties. Butter, for example, was given 2½¢ a pound duty. They promised the city families cheaper foods under their tariff law.

The Bureau of Labor has recently published a study showing retail food prices for the last score of years. In 1913 they selected 22 articles consumed on the city man's table, beginning with various kinds of meats, including dairy products and grain products such as flour, cornmeal, and rice, and concluding with sugar, tea, and coffee. With the exceptions of lard, butter and coffee, every article enumerated was higher in 1914, before the war affected prices, and after the free trade law had been given a test, than it was in 1913, under the protective tariff. Lard was 2-10ths of a cent cheaper, coffee one-tenth of a cent less, and butter declined a fraction over 2 cents. Sugar, over which there was such a war, showed a marked increase in price. Coffee, which has for years been free under both laws, showed a very slight decrease, while tea, which has been treated like coffee, increased in price. The index number for these 22 articles increased from 100 for 1913 to 102.4 for 1914. Not much of a relief for the city man in that.

Beginning with 1921 the Bureau of Labor increased its list to 43 articles, including canned goods, vegetables, fruits, etc. In May, 1921, Congress passed the emergency tariff law, and that law was in full force and effect during the major part of 1922. It placed protective rates on nearly all farm products. A study of this list shows that every one of the 22 articles included in the 1913-14 list was lower in retail price in 1922 than in 1921, while of the additional 21 items, there were slight increases in leg of lamb, vegetable lard substitute, navy beans, onions, canned peas and tomatoes, prunes, and oranges.

In 1923 the general protective tariff law was in effect, which gave farm products ample protective rates. Comparing the list that year with the 1921 list, there were increases in butter, cheese, sugar, coffee, leg of lamb, nut margarine, vegetable lard substitute, navy beans, onions, canned peas and tomatoes, prunes, and oranges, 13 articles, while the remaining 30 showed decreases, in every instance except rice and oleomargarine which remained the same as the 1921 price. The prices on July 15, 1924, compared with the year 1921 showed increases in certain beef products, cheese, rice, potatoes, sugar, coffee, tea, lamb, oleo, and nut margarine and vegetable lard, navy beans, onions, canned peas and tomatoes, while chuck roast, corn meal, and canned corn remained the same, and plate beef was less. Sugar was but four-tenths of a cent a pound higher, and this product averaged 19.4¢ a pound throughout 1920, under the Democratic tariff law. In no instance did the increases bear any relation whatever to the tariff.

The percents of increase July 15 of the years 1921, 1922, 1923 and 1924, over July 15, 1913, were 49.0, 42.7, 47.8, and 43.4, respectively, while with the index number of 1913 taken at 100 that for 1914 was 102.4 for 1921, 153.3, for 1922, 141.6, for 1923, 146.2, and for 1924, 143.3. The analysis is proof that retail prices were in general lower under protection than under free trade.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Sixteen out of every 100 residents of the District of Columbia were arrested for something or other in the last year.

These are official police figures. They mean another investigation when Congress reconvenes.

Congress is the district's city council, or board of supervisors. It is conceded by everybody that something must be done with any place where nearly a fifth of the entire population gets put in jail in the course of a year. Congress will be asked to find out what the matter is.

THE statistics mean more than may appear at first glance. For every adult male resident of the District there are four and a fraction women and children.

Just what the fraction represents the census bureau doesn't say—persons, perhaps, who have had their tonsils, adenoids or appendices removed. Four-and-a-fraction is the record, anyway.

NOW, certainly not nearly as many women as men are arrested, and very few children are arrested at all.

So most of the arrests must have been made among a fraction less than one-sixth of those who live in Washington and its environs.

Take that into account, and it becomes apparent that a grown-up male resident of the nation's capital has quite a job on his hands to keep out of the law's clutches at least once a year.

A LARGE proportion of the arrests were for misuse of the automobile.

This suggests the question of plans for reducing the number of motor car fatalities. And this, in turn, leads up to the interesting, if pessimistic, conclusion of the Washington police that, though such tragedies may be reduced in number, a heavy automobile death toll is inevitable, anyway.

THE Washington police theory is that the public has come to accept auto deaths as a development of the times.

Science can prolong life for awhile. It can fight the white plague. It provides vaccination. It has serums against diphtheria and typhoid. The X-ray is efficacious in cancer cases, sometimes.

But science can't avert death, from some cause or other, in the end.

Just so with the automobile. It may be regulated a little but it will do its work ultimately.

That's the view of the Washington police.

TWO per cent of the District of Columbia's population were arrested last year for intoxication. When it's considered how many people take a drink in proportion to the number who get drunk, and how many get drunk in proportion to the number who get caught, the only fair conclusion is that the district is, rather wet.

"Manhandled," Princess

If you are one of the millions, who have loaned an ear recently to the mysteriously recurrent rumors of Gloria Swanson's demise, take a trip down to the Princess theatre today and see "Manhandled," Gloria's latest production for Paramount. And if after that you still think Gloria's a dead one, then she never was alive.

But it is a different Gloria Swanson you see on the screen at the Princess. That is, different as far as picture characterizations are concerned. She's the liveliest person you ever saw in your life in this Allan Dwan production, an adaptation from Arthur Stringer's Saturday Evening Post story by that name.

Here's a picture with a climax as sensational as its title—a story of a salesgirl in a big New York department store, who is out for a good time, willing to receive everything but give nothing in return. She falls in with men who misjudge her—misinterpret her idea of a good time, manhandle her and then—the girl comes around to her right senses with a bang, realizes what unwittingly, she had almost brought upon herself and goes back to the safe and sane life, happy in the love of an honest-to-goodness sweetheart. He may not have jewels and a car to offer her, but she's seen the rest and knows when she's got the best.

Tom Moore is Miss Swanson's leading man in "Manhandled," which will close its run Thursday. Others in the cast are Frank Morgan, Ian Keith, Paul McAllister and Lilyan Tashman.

Senators Picked to Win First Game
Because of Harris' Promise to Pitch Walter Johnson

Shake The Left Mit

Washington, Oct. 1—Word went forth to the local citizenry today to shake Walter Johnson's left hand in congratulating him on achieving his ambition to pitch in a world's series. Thousands of admirers pumping away at his right hand threaten to put it out of commission.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, Oct. 1—Considering that the New York Giants and the Washington Senators are almost evenly matched, Professional layers have established a price of 5 to 6, take your choice of either team to win the world series.

Remembering last year when the wise guys were stuck on the Yankees by putting up their money on McGraw to out-think the Yankees, the betters are not so sure that Buck Harris will be a mere child on the bench and around the field.

Odds of 11 to 10 on Washington to win the first game of the series are being offered as a result of Harris' promise to pitch Walter Johnson in the opener. Johnson was hurt in the last series at Boston when he was struck on the elbow with a pitched ball, but he is thought to have recovered.

Figuring that the Giants are more experienced and will not be in danger of getting rattled in tight places and that the Giants have more of a punch than the American League champions, practically all of the New York writers are picking the but unless they get the same spirit of the Senators, however, they'll lose.

The Giants squad will be divided today. Some of the players will take part in an exhibition game and the others will work out at the Polo Grounds under Captain Frank Frisch. The entire squad will leave tomorrow afternoon for Washington and will go through their stunts in the Washington ball park Friday.

Manager McGraw has not decided definitely about his opening line up. He is not certain that Heine Groh will be able to take his regular place at third base, but it is almost certain that Frisch will play second.

Although New York hasn't gone into hysterics, the city is showing interest in the series in its casual way, mostly by protesting against the inability to get tickets in the first row.

James Tierney, secretary of the Giants, said today that the reserved seats were selling so fast that it looked like a capacity crowd for all three games.

Commissioner Landis, who is to be in charge of the series, left today for Washington to take part in the celebration that is to be staged there this afternoon when the Senators return home. The commissioner met here yesterday with the representatives of the two clubs and made all the final arrangements for the series.

FRANKLIN IS OUT

TO DEFEAT BUTLER

Baptists and Bull Dogs Will Hold
Their Annual Football Contest
on Saturday

GAME IN INDIANAPOLIS

Franklin, Ind., Oct. 1—"Beat Butler!"

That is the cry of Franklin college students today as the time for the annual Franklin-Butler college football game draws nearer.

When the two teams mix Saturday at Indianapolis Franklin will be there in force to see the Baptists attempt to tame the Bull Dogs.

The atmosphere surrounding the Baptist camp, while not overburdened with confidence is full of determination. The Franklinites are simply not predicting—just hoping and praying.

Following their victory over Indiana Central, 28 to 0 last Saturday in a seemingly easy fashion, the tense feeling on the Franklin campus was considerably relieved. The new men proved their worth, and the veterans showed they were up to standard.

One of the chief boasts of the Baptists is the strong backfield Ed. Dugan has managed to organize. Of course Red Rohrabough and Fuzzy Vandiver are there, and then Chapin, Wilson, King and Underwood, all new men are going like a house-afire.

SPORT CHATTER

New York—Three major league pitchers had long winning streaks broken in the closing games of the season. Walter Johnson lost to the Red Sox after winning 13 straight. Dazzy Vance was stopped by the Pittsburgh Pirates after winning 15 straight. Bill Doak was dropped by the Cubs after taking 10 in a row.

New York—By going through another season without missing a game—Deacon Scott, the Ironman shortstop of the Yanks increased his remarkable run of consecutive games to 1,290 games. Scott hasn't missed a game since early in the season of 1916.

Richmond, Va.—"We didn't win the pennant, but we got a big kick by knocking the New York Yanks out of it," Ty Cobb, manager of the Detroit Tigers, said. Cobb won't pick the series winner, but he wants the Senators to win.

Boston—"I had intended at the start of the season to retire and buy into a minor league next year. Now I don't know what I'll do," Walter Johnson, veteran Washington pitcher, said. "I'll have to get out Sunday and I want to take my wife and four kiddies to the Pacific Coast," he said.

New York—Ladkin, winner of the second international race Saturday, and Epimard, the French colt who finished second, will be shipped on the same train today to Latonia where they will meet as rivals for the third time in the last of the series on October 11.

Chicago—The Chicago city series of seven games gets under way here today. Alexander probably will pitch for the Cubs. Faber is slated to hurl for the White Sox.

Cobb, Ruth and Speaker are great ball players, but each of them has a certain weakness which bars him from the glorious estate of perfection. A player who comes close to meriting a perfect rating of 100 per cent is Buzz Artlett, Oakland player, starring in the Pacific Coast League. Artlett is equally gifted in all departments of play, throwing, hitting, running and that all-important quality, "baseball instinct." That's why they call him the 100 per cent minor leaguer.

REACHED AN AGREEMENT

Four Electoral Candidates Favorable
to R. M. LaFollette Removed

Bismark, N. D., Oct. 1—President Coolidge took a paper advantage over Robert M. LaFollette in North Dakota as a result of an agreement over disputed electoral candidates.

The argument was settled and a stipulation made in Supreme Court, in effect removing four electoral candidates from the Republican ballot known to be favorable to LaFollette and substituting four others known to be favorable to the president. A form of ballot submitted by Secretary of State Thomas Hall was also approved.

As a result of the stipulation the ballot will carry a column for all "LaFollette-Wheeler progressives." There also will be columns containing the Republicans, Democrats, Non-Partisan Leaders and members of the workers party of America.

IN "BLOSSOM TIME"

FERNE NEWELL

At the Shubert Murat theatre in Indianapolis the week of October 6 the Messrs. Shubert will present their beautiful and memorable "Blossom Time," with a special cast made up from the choice artists of the two leading organizations, which (together) extended its run in New York City for over two and one-half years, and broke all previous records for financial takings in this field of stage production. By facts and figures collated in the Shubert office, the artistic as well as the pecuniary achievements of "Blossom Time" have beaten even such historic successes as "The Merry Widow," "The Chocolate Soldier," "Robin Hood" and every other operatic stage triumph of native tradition, not even excepting the almost prehistoric "Pinoch." The reasons for success of prodigious proportions are not hard to find. Critics everywhere as well as the public succumbed to "Blossom Time," because, it was deemed worthy to be the forerunner of a new school, or epoch, in the "light music" field of the theatre; and such, indeed, it has proven to be. Its electrical success in New York was instantly duplicated in every city of the country where it was presented and, as in Indianapolis, to great popular acclaim.

The Ladies of St. Paul's M. E. church will give a penny supper in the basement of the church, Friday evening October 10.

Winter Fight for Dempsey

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 1—Jack Dempsey probably will be seen in action in Madison Square Garden before the winter ends. Tex Rickard wants to put the big fellow on in an indoor show and the champion is considering the offer. Tom Gibbons will be offered as the opponent and it is probable that Dempsey will accept.

Dempsey hasn't worked in an indoor fight since he stopped the late Bill Brennan in 12 rounds almost four years ago. That was before the time of million-dollar gates and half-million-dollar purses and since that time Dempsey's price couldn't be touched by the entire receipts of an indoor fight.

If Dempsey does accept an offer to appear in the Garden this winter it will be practically an admission on his part that the day of huge money boxing is over. Tex Rickard believes that day is passed and Dempsey owes his fortune to the good judgment of Rickard on what the public will stand for.

There are a number of boxing managers brooding now over the poor judgment they showed in refusing to accept reasonable offers for indoor matches last winter. The case of the flyweights, Pancho Villa and Frankie Genaro, can be quoted as an illustration, not because they were the only ones who made the mistake of misjudging the public's willingness to pay, but because their case is a prominent one and typical of the others.

Villa and Genaro could have gone into Madison Square Garden last winter and it is possible that they could have split up a purse of $100,000. But they refused to consider any offer. "We're too big for an inside show," their managers insisted. "We can fill one of the ball parks next summer or even the Jersey City arena. We can work on a percentage and get twice the money that could be drawn at an indoor show."

They held out against good advice from their friends and they are now holding the bag and weeping on their sleeves. They haven't a thing to show for a wasted winter and a blown summer.

It was quite natural that no season would be big enough to hold all the fancy boxing cards that could be made. When the outdoor promoters went to work last spring they found the principals of prospective matches figuring that their show could fill any park in the country and discovered them fighting about percentages, dates, places and everything in the book. They kept fiddling and fooling around until the season was over and they all were out of luck.

Benny Leonard blew more than $150,000 because he sparred around so much with the promoters who wanted to stage a match between him and Mickey Walker, the welterweight champion. The match was postponed once because the advance sale didn't promise Leonard the percentage he was figuring on and it had to be called off eventually for the same reason.

Boxing in the ball parks was a complete bust and the failure of the group that set out to "take" him probably has been the source of considerable amusement to Tex Rickard.

TRAINING SEVERAL HORSES

Casper Johnson Has Several Promising Prospects in Indianapolis

Casper Johnson, local race horse trainer, has several Rush county horses under training at his stables in Indianapolis and he says many of them look good for fast steps.

Foremost among his horses is one owned by Will L. Brown of this city, which is Miss Peter Pearl, by Hedgewood Boy. This mare was given a try-out on the track the other day by Mr. Johnson and stepped the mile in 2:07, and was not hard pushed. A half mile was made in 1:01, according to Mr. Johnson. He expects to get this mare in shape, and predicts a grand circuit schedule for her next season. The other five or six horses in training are developing fast, he says.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's Hero: "Nick" Altrock, the Senator's clown coach who pitched two innings and held the Red Sox to three hits, and one run and who scored Washington's lone run on a "remarkable" three base hit while his teammates were sustaining a 13 to 1 lacing.

Rain caused cancellation of the double-header between the Athletics and the Yanks and the latter finishing in second place for the first time in four years, disbanded.

Girl Winner

Hazel Kirke of Patterson, N. J., proved the best hurdle jumper in the 100-yard event at the women's national championship held recently at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mrs. Merrill Ball, Mrs. Jesse Poe and Mrs. Fred Beale were the hostesses. A short business session was held followed by a short program, including readings by Miss Mary Estelle Compton and a piano solo by Mary Frances Beale. Delicious refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program.

The employees of the Daily Republican enjoyed a delicious pitch-in supper Tuesday evening in the press room of the building, the affair being in honor of the birthday anniversary of Miss Laverne Conway. Music was enjoyed during the repast and a social evening was enjoyed following the supper.

A most enjoyable time was spent at the social given by the young people of the First Presbyterian church Tuesday evening. The parlors of the church were decorated with fall flowers and many interesting games and stunts had been prepared. A novel feature was a special edition of the Daily Republican which was edited by the young people who were divided into groups. The latest telegraphic news, editorials, crime, accident, politics, society, fashion notes, the farmers department, questions and answers, city news, want ads, book review and fiction were each very cleverly written up and provoked much laughter when read. As the closing feature of the evening refreshments were served by the social committee.

DILEMMA OVER VOTING MACHINES IS SOLVED

Representative of Company Shows How Nine Tickets May be Placed on the Machine

PUTS TWO TO THE COLUMN

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 1.—The voting machine dilemma confronting the state election board was believed solved today.

J. A. Davis, representative of the voting machine company which sold seven column machines to a number of counties informed the board that a mechanical device had been perfected to permit placing nine tickets on the machine.

The device permits grouping of two short tickets in one column. It is now up to the board to determine which tickets shall be grouped in the columns on the voting machines.

With the filing of the American Party petition, nine tickets are certain to be in the field. The American Party petition was the seventh filed. The Republicans and Democrats have not yet been filed.

The election board may experience some difficulty in selecting the minor tickets which are to be grouped.

Some of the leaders of the smaller parties have already protested that such grouping would be discriminatory against them.

Persons who have studied the voting machines, however, insist that the second row of tickets will be in full view of the voter and that there will be no grounds for protest against discrimination.

WILL TRY AGAIN

Rally Day at the First Presbyterian church last Sunday was a splendid success both in the Sunday school and morning service. There were many new faces in the audience, but the rain of the morning interfered with the taking of the picture which is to be used in the Centennial celebration next January.

Plans are being made to take the picture next Sunday after the morning service. It is desired that all members and former members and friends of the church be present. All members of the Sunday School are to stay and have part in this picture.

At the service next Sunday, new members are to be welcomed and parents may present their children for baptism. If there are others who would come into the church at that time, they should meet with the session after the prayer meeting Thursday night.

L. F. Robold Concludes Work at the Church of God

Evangelist L. F. Robold delivered his farewell sermon Tuesday night at the Church of God, corner of Ninth and Oliver streets, where he has been conducting the revival for the past two weeks. He spoke on the "Last Call", taking for his text, "My Spirit shall not always strive with man," Genesis 6:3. He said that God called each individual to serve him and if they hardened their hearts and did not heed the call soon they would get their last call which means death, if they do not give their hearts to God.

He spoke of how people back in olden times got their last call and how people were getting their last call today to serve God. He spoke on the many excuses people had made for not accepting the call of God. The services will continue this week in charge of the pastor, W. S. Sutherland. Services tonight at 7:30 o'clock and Capt. Myers of the Salvation army will be present with his music. Everybody is welcome.

NOTICE FOR IMPROVEMENT OF HIGHWAY IN ANDERSON TOWNSHIP, RUSH COUNTY, INDIANA

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in my office for the grading and paving with crushed stone of a certain highway in Anderson Township, Rush County, State of Indiana, which petition is signed by Fred Shelhorn, et al, and is in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

In the matter of the petition for the improvement of a public highway in Anderson township, Rush County, Indiana by Fred Shelhorn et al. To the Board of Commissioners, Rush County, Indiana:

We, the undersigned, would represent and show to your Honorable Board that this petition is signed by more than fifty adult freeholders and legal voters of Anderson Township, Rush County, Indiana; that there is now an existing public highway over and upon the following described route, to-wit: Beginning at the north-west corner of Section 24, Township 12 north, Range 9 east, and running thence south on the Section line between Sections 24 and 23, Township 12 north, Range 9 east, to the southwest corner of said Section 24.

Your petitioners would further represent and show that said public highway as now established is approximately 32 feet in width and connects at the north end thereof with an improved free macadam road known as the Joseph Green et al Highway and on the south with the Roy Tonyes et al Highway and said highway as above described is approximately one mile in length. That the same is now traversed and used by a Township school delivery conveyance, and a rural free mail delivery route and is a greatly used public highway, and that the said highway is an important connecting highway between said improved highways, as above described. That the improvement of said highway will be of great public utility and the costs thereof will be less than the benefits derived therefrom; that there is no incorporated town or city in Anderson Township and that said public highway sought to be improved does not run into or through the limits of any incorporated city or town and is less than three miles in length and that the same should be improved by grading, draining and paving same upon the traveled portion thereof to the width of sixteen feet with crushed stone and stone screenings, and that all necessary drains, side drains, bridges, culverts and sewers should be placed therein and said highway so constructed as to make of said public highway a complete macadam road.

Your petitioners would further show that on account of the existing bonded indebtedness for the building of highways in said Anderson Township that it is not possible to construct said highway within the two percent (2%) limit as provided by the statutes of the State of Indiana, but that said highway can be constructed within the four percent (4%) limit as provided by said statutes and said petitioners, therefore, ask that the question of establishing and constructing such highway shall be submitted to a vote of the electors of Anderson Township as now provided by law. UNITED STATES MUST IMPROVE HER COURT

Statement Made by Indiana Prison
Warden if Crime is to be Checked
in Country

DENOUNCED CHICAGO TRAIL

Michigan City, Ind., Oct. 1—"If crime is to be checked, if your travesty on law is to be ended America must improve her courts."

This was the declaration today of Edward J. Fogarty, warden at the Indiana State Prison here and one of the foremost authorities on criminology in the country.

Fogarty was bitter in denouncing the outcome of the Leopold-Loeb trial in Chicago and said he believed Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb should have received the death penalty for the murder of Robert Franks. Fogarty has the reputation of one of the most human prison officials, and whose institution at Michigan City is a model for lenient treatment of prisoners.

"It is the leniency of our courts in penalizing crime that is enticing criminals," Fogarty declared. "We must get back to the English method of swift and sure justice before crime can be checked in America."

Asked what he would suggest Fogarty merely smiled and said he had a plan.

"But what's the use; they'd think me crazy," he said.

"They thought I was crazy when I inaugurated my system here, but I want to say I have better order and more of a college than you will find at many universities."

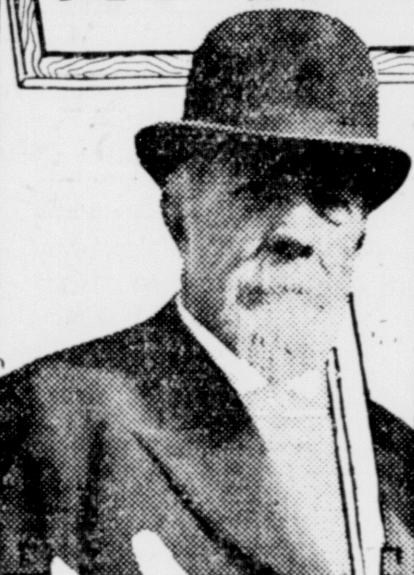

"If I were a retired business man seeking relaxation I would rather spend two weeks here than at French Lick," Fogarty chuckled.

VOCATIONAL CLASS SELECTS SEED CORN

Walker Township High School Students Show by Tests Careful Storage is Necessary

WHEAT WAS ALSO TESTED

The Vocational Agricultural class of the Walker township high school has been kept busy recently attempting to keep abreast with the seasonal activities on the farm. Inspection and selection of the ripest corn for seed purposes has been started. Moisture tests are run on each sample to determine the state of maturity.

Each sample is labeled and placed in a rack to itself for further study. Thirty-nine percent moisture content is the lowest found so far. This serves to emphasize the necessity of immediate field selection and careful storage under proper curing conditions in order to have a supply of seed for next year.

The Freshman and Sophomore class constructed a machine for testing wheat, infected with stinking smut, with copper carbonate. Since making the machine, they have treated some fifty or sixty bushels of wheat in order to gain experience in every phase of the operation. Each pupil is familiar with every phase of construction of the apparatus, also.

SERIES MORE THAN BUNCH OF GAMES

It was looked upon as being more foolish than crooked because the Giants had the pennant as good as cinched and the Phillies certainly could not have been regarded as such a menace.

Unless other Giants are implicated, and Landis has intimated that so far he has found no evidence of other complicity, the loss of O'Connell and Dolan will not reduce the strength of the Giants as O'Connell and Dolan is not a regular player and Dolan will not be a vital loss on the coaching lines. O'Connell got his name from the price paid for him and not for anything he has ever done with the Giants.

The Washington club worked out this morning at the ball park under their young manager, Buck Harris. They went through a stiff three hour batting and fielding drill and in the manner of a boxer they will have only a "breather" tomorrow as the final workout.

The Giants were due in this afternoon but they were not expected to do any work until tomorrow. With Dandis around, the Giants probably will have their time filled today answering questions and saying, "no."

Weather conditions were perfect today and the weather bureau had withdrawn the threat of earlier in the week for a tropical storm on Saturday.

Club officials reported today that they would have to turn down thousands of applications for seats. "Wish we could move the Yankee Stadium

Convinced that Walter Johnson is to pitch the opening game, the Washington fans aren't interested in the selection of the Giants for the starter. It is the opinion here that John will beat anyone the Giants offer, not only in the first game but in the three games of the series.

FORTY-SEVEN NATIONS SIGN

League of Nations Disarmament Protocol is Approved

Geneva, Oct. 2.—Representatives of forty-seven nations unanimously approved the league of nations arbitration, security and disarmament protocol. France was first to sign the protocol, her spokesman stating that it marked the end of war. Poland, Latvia, Estonia, Bulgaria and Serbia also signed.

By adopting the protocol of arbitration, security and disarmament the assembly summoned a reduction of armaments conference to meet at Geneva next June. The United States will be invited to send representatives.

Many hailed the protocol as bringing an end to war.

value of the buildings involved.

"This sum of destruction is, of course, still far too large, yet the smaller increase noted is a sign that fire prevention work does pay, and it is just because we have proof, at last that all our efforts in the past have been to some purpose that we should not slow up now.

To this end, I have drawn up, for the guidance of all of us throughout the year to come, these brief rules of fire-safety.

"Watch disposal of matches and lighted smoking materials; they are responsible for a heavier annual loss than any other known cause. Always keep matches out of reach of small children.

"Use proper fuses in electrical circuits; the fuse is the safety valve of the system and should not be tampered with.

"Turn off electric irons and other heating devices while attending to something else.

"Gasoline and other volatile liquids make dangerous cleaning fluids; many safe compounds are in the market, including carbon tetrachloride which is obtainable at any drug store.

"Defective chimneys and flues caused more than $18,000,000 destruction last year; keep them clean and in repair.

"A gas leak should be hunted with a flashlight instead of with an open flame light; to the suspected part of the pipe apply soap suds which, in bubbling, will reveal the leak.

"Clean all smoke pipes before the winter comes on; if pipes are clogged they overheat easily and may start a fire when the furnace is operated.

"Walls, ceilings and partitions should be shielded from the overheating of stoves, furnaces and pipes.

"Hot ashes belong in metal containers, not in wooden boxes and barrels.

"Oil lamps or stoves are safely filled only by daylight.

"Open fires always should be screened."

Maxwell is One of the Staunchest Cars Built Today

At all vital points, you will find that metals and construction of the good Maxwell are the same as in cars costing three to four times as much.

In proportion to its weight and power, it is actually stronger than the most expensive cars built today.

That's a big thing for us to be able to say about a car of the good Maxwell price; and it is one of the Chrysler superiorities that put Maxwell so far ahead of its own field.

Yet it is only one of the sound, fundamental superiorities which make us proud to be factors in its production. You have probably heard about Maxwell pick-up—how in a flat 8 seconds, it accelerates from 5 to 25 miles an hour.

You are also probably acquainted with the fact that the simple device of a platform spring under the front end of the motor, combined with the balancing of reciprocating parts to the fraction of an ounce, practically eliminates any sense of vibration.

Are you aware, however, that all the way through the Maxwell chassis, you find chrome nickel or other high grade alloy steel for those parts which must stand heavy stress and strain—just as in cars of highest price?

The front axle, and all the parts on which depends the control of the car, are almost unreasonably over-strong.

A bull-dog for powerful pulling—this car; but it can't pull too hard for transmission and rear axle.

The steering knuckles, and the king pins upon which they turn, are of chrome nickel steel, heat-treated.

The thoroughness of good Maxwell strength is well illustrated by the frame, which is unusually deep, and braced by six stout cross members.

Good Maxwell strength, in a word, is a match for Maxwell performance and dependability.

All these are a part of that complete and unusual goodness which scores of thousands of owners declare makes the good Maxwell the most care-free and economical motor car they have ever possessed.

We are pleased to extend the convenience of time payments. Ask about Maxwell's attractive plan.

STORMY SESSION OVER BROOKHART'S DEMAND

Members of Iowa Republican State Committee to Decide Whether to "Read Him Out" of Party

IS GOOD ADVICE—BROOKHART

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 2.—A stormy session was in prospect as members of the Republican state committee assembled today to discuss what action to take in the case of Senator Brookhart who demanded the withdrawal of the name of Charles G. Dawes, as vice presidential candidate on the Republican ticket.

Brookhart has powerful support on the committee. One faction demands that he be let out of the party. The Brookhart faction opposes any move to oust or censure him.

B. B. Burnquist, state chairman who called the committee into conference said that the committee first would take up Brookhart's letter demanding Dawes' resignation. "After that it is up to the committee to oust him or keep him," he said.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa made it very plain today that he has no intention of bolting the Republican party, as the result of the storm created by his demand for the resignation of Charles G. Dawes from the Republican ticket.

"All I've got to say is that I gave them very good advice," Brookhart said with a grin.

Brookhart is pleaded with the future he created in Republican ranks.

Use heavenly banks:—Lay not up for yourself treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. —Matthew 6: 19-21.

Boosting With Taxes

An exchange suggests that since everyone in any given section, be it small community, town or city, profits from good publicity, the taxpayers should be taxed to pay for promotion of its interests.

This is dangerous doctrine. Already too many projects have been loaded on to the shoulders of the taxpayers. The complaint is growing that taxes are too high, due to the freedom that taxing units have in issuing tax-free, long-time bonds for public improvements.

No one in this day and age doubts the wisdom of publicity as a means of boosting the interests of a town or city.

The cities and states and the individual concerns which spend most freely for publicity work are the ones which are growing most rapidly and accomplishing most for their own progress and prosperity.

The argument is good that the growth of a city, accomplished by favorable publicity, enhances the value of all property and hence all taxpayers benefit by it.

But such a step is too paternalistic in character in a nation that is now beset with scores of schemes to put the government into business and take initiative away from the individual.

Communities that have citizens who appreciate the value of publicity will get ahead because there are enough public-spirited men who are willing to make the investment required, realizing that they themselves will benefit. They are willing to do something for the common good as well.

While it's true that in every community there are men who are willing to sit down and let the enterprising citizens carry forward the campaign, the benefits of which all will share in, the suggestion that expenses of such campaigns be born by taxation is a dangerous theory and should never be put into operation.

Give All Boys a Chance

Interest in the "World Series" is not confined to adults. Many a school boy's knitted brow is only a ruse to conceal his thoughts. Instead of Euclid's propositions, his meditations may be on his baseball heroes and their chances for victory. And why not? Play, games, and athletics are a recognized part of the school's physical education program. These activities offer, without doubt, one of the best opportunities for the development of good conduct and healthful habits. Are their possibilities realized?

The teacher-coach should, by example and attitude, inculcate the ideals of fair play. Pupils should learn to despise everything tricky or mean, to abide by the rules and the spirit of the game, to strive to win by their own superior athletic prowess, and to recognize it appropriately in others. They should learn to be sportsmanlike. This implies, when winners, the lack of undue boasting, and, when losers, the first in congratulating their successful opponents.

Well-planned athletics, contribute immeasurably to physical fitness, happiness, honesty, cooperation, consideration for others, sense of fair play, and character. Each and all of these are worthy goals. Should this highly desirable type of education be confined to the few already physically fit?

Undue concentration on "the team" may well be supplanted by interesting the pupils in the organization and development of a number of play groups and teams within the school. Inter-class games and contests between the school's teams are highly desirable. Well-directed participation by the many is essential to the greater good to the greater number.

The women are wearing their new fall hats. At least, we think that's what they are.

Cold is what makes the Eskimos fat, which is what makes a girl wear silk stockings in winter.

When a girl throws a good man down he bounces right into another one's lap.

We would hate to be so fat we had no lap upon which to sit the younger set.

Late to bed and late to rise makes one unhealthy and broke and wise.

The first season a debutante is quite the berries, next season she is made into wine, and the third season turns to vinegar.

Many a flame is started by the flicker of an eyelid.

The mother who said, "What beautiful scenery?" has a daughter who says, "What nice parking places?"

The new fall dance steps have many twists and turns.

Father no longer slips in late at night. He breezes in, confident the others are not there to hear him.

The rising generation stays up to see the sunrise instead of getting up to see it.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Washingtonians, who have been paying only twice the rent their living accommodations are worth during the summer, go back the first of October to the regular rate of three times as much.

This is the usual thing in the national capital. Probably there isn't another city in the world from which there's so general a summer exodus. Beginning about the middle of May, from then until the middle of September nobody's in town who can possibly get and keep away from it.

Consequently the landlords are left with a lot of vacant houses and apartments on their hands and they trim rentals a little to try and tempt people to occupy them.

For one thing, Congress ordinarily isn't in session in summer.

That makes a big difference. It means the departure not only of nearly all the senators and representatives, with their families, but also of large numbers whose business directly or indirectly depends on the lawmakers' doings.

All the supreme court outfit leaves likewise. A majority of the heads of the numerous executive departments, bureaus, divisions, units, commissions, committees, boards, institutes, institutions, foundations, administrations and miscellaneous other offices are important enough persons not to have to stick very tight to their jobs, so they, too, are gone most of the season.

Even the underlings are entitled each to at least two weeks vacation, and while they're not all away at once, a considerable proportion of them are. On top of all this, "society" tears out in a body the minute the trees begin to bud.

WASHINGTON summers are maddening hot. Still, it's a pretty place, and comfortable enough in a palm beach suit, and the shade—a lot more so than the average crowded summer resort. So it isn't entirely clear why almost the whole community moves away every year.

Probably it's just a habit. It's a mercy, however, for those who do stay here. It gives 'em that little spell of relief from the cut-throat rents they have to pay the rest of the time.

New York's rents have nothing on Washington's and there isn't the same excuse for it. Washington isn't crowded as Manhattan is. While there isn't an excuse, there's an explanation. The explanation is the airtight trust the landlords have.

THE average government employee has to turn over practically his entire income to his landlord.

How he and his family live is a mystery.

What do they eat? How do they clothe themselves? Salaries are low in the government service and that class of people have considerable "front" to maintain.

The Washington rent commission fights the trust as well as it can. It issues orders, gets injunctions and has secured a few indictments. The landlords hate the commission and are somewhat afraid of it but still they keep rents up—not so high in summer as in winter but twice what they ought to be at the best of times.

The Lexington Motor Car Company will remove from Lexington, Ky., to Comersville. The county seat of Fayette pays $8,000 for the plant.

In a fast game, replete with spectacular plays the high school football team defeated the picked eleven last evening at the South Main street grounds by the score of 16 to 6. Several players were forced to quit the game on account of minor injuries.

The Windsor hotel will be open and doing business again in about three weeks, or possibly sooner. W. E. Wallace and son Lev have bought the furniture of Capt. J. H. Mauzy and will take possession at once.

Ben Sparks, the local high school athlete who graduated last spring, is making good with a vengeance on the football team at Butler college, in Irvington, where he is attending school. The eleven played their first game today and Sparks held down the responsible position of quarterback.

TELLS OF NECESSITY OF BEING PREPARED

W. S. Sutherland, Pastor of Church of God, Preaches to Large Crowd at Revival

MUSIC BY ARMY LEADER

A large crowd attended the revival which is still in progress at the Church of God, Wednesday night. Special music was provided by Capt. Myers of the Salvation army and Mrs. Harry Gessler. The pastor, W. S. Sutherland, delivered the message on "Be Prepared to Meet God," his text being taken from Matthew 24:44. He spoke on how people were preparing for the business side of life, which they should if they expect to make a success of it, but the most important thing we should be interested in, is being prepared to meet God, which we must be if we expect to meet Him in peace.

He spoke how people should be ready at all times for the Lord was coming as a beast in the night, unexpected, and it would be up to us to be ready for that time. He also spoke how the bridegroom came at midnight to the five foolish virgins and they were not prepared to meet him, and the man that went to the wedding was not prepared because he did not have on the wedding garment, which means salvation. He also spoke of the results of being and not being prepared. Services tonight at 7:30 o'clock with special music.

MANNFELD SEEKING MORE RIGID LAWS

Conservation Head Wants Indiana Game Laws Modified to Keep State in the Front

RANKS HIGH WITH OTHERS

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 2.—In view of the fact that Indiana has become one of the best states in the Union for fishing and hunting small wild game more rigid game laws should be enacted by the next legislature to keep it that way, George N. Mannfeld, head of the fish and game division of the state department of conservation declared today.

He indicated that his division would sponsor such action by the legislature. While Indiana game laws are as good or better as in most states new laws should be enacted for their more rigid enforcement.

More rigid enforcement of these laws has a money value in that it makes hunting and fishing more profitable and this results in attracting out-of-state hunters and fishermen and they pay for the privilege.

Some of the revisions of the present law suggested by Mannfeld were: Longer closed season for rabbits with a bag limit.

Making unlawful to sell squirrel carcasses during closed season whether caught in the state or not, with a bag limit on squirrels.

Make state migratory bird law conform with federal.

Closed season on crappie and Roft bass from April 30 to June 16 and on White fish during the spawning season in Lake Michigan.

Requiring license to dig mussels with regulations.

Lengthen limit on bluegills, yellow perch, channel catfish, white fish and lake trout.

SUCCESSFUL YEAR FOR MINT

Milford, Ind., Oct. 2.—One of the most successful years in the history of the largest mint raising district in the world has ended in northern Indiana and southern Michigan. The crop has not only been successful in the amount of production but also in the profit to individual raisers. W. A. Yoder, a raiser west of here, for instance, reported a profit of $217 an acre. Mint oil is now quoted at $2.25 a pound.

Results from the use of "Mother's Friend" are proven by many startling letters of testimony from happy users. "I can almost say my baby was born without pain," writes a young mother who had used "Mother's Friend."

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally. It has been used by three generations of expectant mothers. Start using it today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., B-A 18, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable book containing information every expectant mother should have. WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP FARMERS ENJOY SPORTS, DINNER, SPEECH

Under the auspices of the Washington township Farm Bureau an all day picnic was held Saturday at the Raleigh high school where old and young alike, mingled together and enjoyed speaking, entertainment, sports, good eats and refreshments.

It has already become an established custom of the bureau to have this "get together" picnic each year. With George Ertel as president, no efforts have been spared to make this year one of marked improvement. The movement is still in its infancy but the farmers expect to develop their organization until it fills a much needed place in a program for social and economic betterment of the rural community.

Two baseball games were played in the morning. The first was won by the Raleigh high school from the Bentonville high school 4 to 3. No one knows the results of the second game, played between two pickup teams, as it ran well past the noon hour and everyone was too excited to remember when Mrs. Ed Jackson yelled "dinner."

All participated willingly in the next event which was one of the most enjoyable, as the women of this community are especially noted for preparing good eats. Immediately after the noon meal was finished a seemingly unexhaustable supply of ice cream faced those who had already gone the limit of stomach's content. Nevertheless it soon disappeared and the evening program followed.

A short program was given by Ophelia Heath, Martha Heath and Grace Carson, assisted by two grade pupils, Mary Gordon and Beatrice Lord.

The speaker for the afternoon was Prof. O. F. Hall of Purdue University, who gave a splendid address vividly and illustrated throughout. He spoke of four classes of farmers namely, retired, expired, rubber-tired and dirt. Of the four he was concerned with only one, the dirt farmer, stating that he believed the man that tilled the soil should own the farm. Prof. Hall is optimistic about the great agricultural crisis and gave words of encouragement to those still holding on. "Farmers," he said, "Have a great power of recuperating after a crisis and after all the financial loss is the less of two evils resulting from the crisis." "The greater," as he stated it, "is the tendency to leave the occupation especially by young people."

In discussing the present farming situation Prof. Hall asked three questions: first, who caused it? second, What's the damage, and third, how much can I get out of the ruins? His answer to the first was, the war, to the second, financial loss, but the third he discussed more in detail. He made his great appeal to the farmers in answering this question by these statements, "Money isn't everything; we should so live that we may enjoy life in all its fullness; how can any greater pleasure come to any home than to rear children with care?" He then enumerated the many advantages farm life affords for living that desired type of life and in conclusion predicted an inevitable change in farming conditions within the next two years.

A tennis tournament was then held to further entertain the crowd while they feasted on watermelons. It was won by White and Seales who defeated Poer and Campbell in the finals 6 to 3.

The farmers of Washington township were greatly pleased with the day's results and are now looking forward to a greater picnic next year.

The Globe Flyers Above San Francisco

Hello, Golden Gate! Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, commander of the 'round-the-world flight and his mechanic, Lieutenant Leslie P. The picture was taken from one of the escort planes while it and Smith's ship, Chicago, were flying at terrific speed.

Style Experts Put Ban on Bob Hair; Predict Return to the Flowing Locks

Banishment of Scissors Expected This Winter as Tendency is Along That Line. National Bathing Beach Prizes Awarded Only to Girls With Tresses Unmutilated.

Is bobbed hair doomed?

Beauty specialists, theatrical managers and style authorities in New York agree that the post-war epidemic of short tresses has reached its peak, and women who seek to dress "differently" are turning to "transformations", the Parisienne bandeau and other means of disguising their snipped locks, according to late reports from the east.

Newspaper women, in attendance at the Long Island social activities in honor of the Prince of Wales, were impressed with the spreading habit of letting the hair grow long again. Society women, they found, are pensioning the barber's shears, because "every shop girl now has a boyish shingle, my dear."

"I cut my hair three years ago," said a young business woman in a downtown office yesterday. "I thought I'd save a dreadful lot of time. But, gracious, my 'King Tut' cut means oodles of bother and hair-dressing expenses—far more than my old coiffure cost."

"—And bobbing does destroy a girl's personality," chimed in her companion. "You look like every other girl, at dances, the theatre, parties. We all look like orphan asylum inmates. No individuality. Yes, I'm letting mine grow again."

Anyway—
You may be as beautiful as Helen of Troy or as shapely as Venus—but you'll probably never win a national bathing beauty contest if you have bobbed hair!

To judge from the recent happenings at Atlantic City, where the fairest of the fair from more than ninety American cities assembled to compete for the honor of being named "Miss America", the girls with the shingle or boyish bob didn't have a chance.

True! There were a number of girls at the contest whose locks were attractively clipped—but they disappeared in the first elimination and were never heard of again.

On the other hand, Miss Ruth Malcomson, whose dark, luxurious curls fall far over her shapely shoulders, was chosen Beach Queen of America. She comes from Philadelphia. Her curls have never been scissored, she said. And now she has a secretary—working ten hours a day, 'tis said, answering offers of contracts from movie producers, toothbrush concerns and hair tonic manufacturers.

And there was Miss Catherine M. Campbell of Columbus, O., who won the Atlantic City beauty crown for the last two years. She was "runner-up" this year. And she's never heard the barber's cru-u-el clippers.

Another fascinating beauty, whose long, flowing tresses attracted the judges to such a degree that she was awarded numerous cups and a place in the select few called for final consideration was Miss Faye Lamphier, pride of Santa Cruz, Calif. Her long hair frames a charming, intellectual countenance.

The same applies to Miss Margaret Leigh, "Miss Chicago", who finished among the final five. Her dark curls stream gracefully down her shoulders.

And when you asked one of the Atlantic City beauty judges "Why?" he replied—

That beauty of face and figure and personality are the main requisites of the judges, but girls with bobs lack that essential individuality which was needed to make them stand out from the crowd—and the girls with long locks immediately drew the admiring glances.

Bobbed hair is not passed by any means! Some girls will cut their hair for years to come. And some married women. But the trend of fashion is toward long hair again—with the aid of "transformations" and the alluring bandeau and hair net, until nature reasserts itself.

"Every girl," concluded a New York specialist, "should study her personality in the mirror. If she can make herself distinctive, strikingly attractive and vibrant with personality—by means of long hair—she is foolish to submit to the scissors every two weeks."

If you don't think hair styles are changing, just notice the smart women in the shopping district one of these autumn afternoons! Long tresses are coming back, sure.

Happy Again

"I had four large ulcer sores as big as a half dollar for 2 years and Peterson's Ointment has healed them all and I am very glad to let anyone know about your Ointment. From a true friend. My address is 30 Walnut Street, West Haven, Conn. George Hempstalk."

"I guarantee it for eczema, old sores, running sores, salt rheum, ulcers, sore nipples, broken breasts, itching skin, skin diseases, blind, bleeding and itching piles as well as for sore feet, chafing, burns, scalds, cuts, bruises, and sunburn," says Peterson. 35 cents a box.

MY DAUGHTER WOULD CRY AT EVERYTHING

Nervous and Irritable. By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Became Entirely Normal

Clinton, Wisconsin.—"My daughter was in a very run-down condition, and was irritable, and would cry at every little thing she was so weak and nervous. As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped me when I was a girl I gave it to her to build her up, and the results were all that we could wish for. I wish that every mother with growing girls would try it for these troubles girls often have. I had taken it myself before my girl was born, and she was one of the nicest babies any one could wish to have. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to women and girls and cannot praise it too highly." — Mrs. I. A. HOLFORD, Box 48, Clinton, Wisconsin.

Mothers can depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve their daughters of these troubles they so often have. They know from experience the value of the Vegetable Compound in the treatment of these complaints and many, like Mrs. Holford, give it to their daughters.

When the Nerves Fail You--

Chiropractic Health Talk No. 86
By H. V. McCully, D. C. Ph. C.

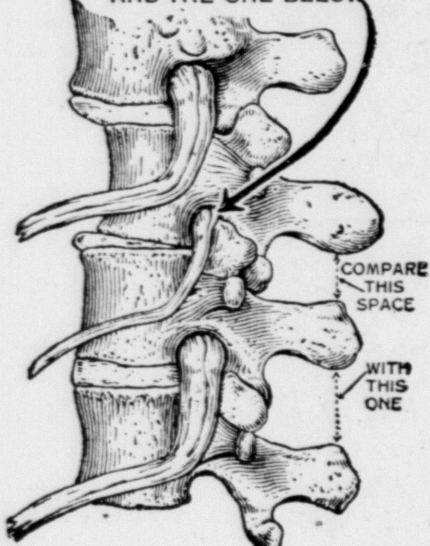

When a condition of Nervous Prostration develops, life seems futile. Inability to concentrate, to perform in an orderly manner any of the tasks of daily life—to even think straight, are evidences of this condition.

Science has come to recognize that this condition does not respond to medicines. The ordinary prescriptions are rest, freedom from worry and work, and above all, the taking of ample time for Nature to restore normality. Chiropractic, however, recognizes that in such a condition there is something basically wrong with the nervous system—a spinal interference with nerve lines which must be removed by spinal adjustments. This method greatly hastens recovery.

Feeling As Well as Ever

"I was very sick with nervous prostration and stomach trouble. Everything was quaking inside me; could not eat, rest or sleep, was weak and dizzy with pains in my wrists and knees and in bed most of the time for four months. I lost twenty-five pounds in weight. Six months ago friends recommended Chiropractic, and I started taking adjustments. Today I feel as well as I ever did. I did not take one drop of medicine after starting the adjustments, and wish to express my gratitude to Chiropractic."—Mrs. Herman Merten, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 2063—B.

Dr. William Held (above) of Chicago, started the American Association of Medico-Physical Research with a new theory of prolonging life. He maintains that glands are coated with a poison called "Cholin" and that if a new serum which he calls "Cholin Splitter," made from the glands of steers, is injected, it will turn the trick, so to speak. "One can live to 150, he says."

ARREST 291 PERSONS IN MONTH OF AUGUST

258 Were Convicted and Paid Fines for Violations of State Fish and Game Laws

ONLY TWO CASES DISMISSED

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 2—Two hundred and ninety-one persons were arrested for violations of state fish and game laws during August, George N. Mannfeld, chief of the fish and game division of the state conservation department, reported to Richard Lieber, director, today. Of this number 258 were convicted and paid fines and costs amounting to $5,070.10. Only two cases were dismissed and 31 remain to be tried. Chief offenses were fishing and hunting without licenses, 121; possession and use of illegal seines and nets, 72; illegal possession of fur animals, 22; taking undersized fish, 21; using more than one trot line, 9; using fish traps, 8. August a year ago 172 persons were arrested, 168 convicted and fines and costs amounted to $3,155.10.

Licenses sold this August totaled 17,070, a gain of 2,927 over August 1923. Of this number 3,625 were issued to non-residents. Records of 1918 under the former department, show August sales of only 6,285. This August sales show a gain of 10,785 licenses over August 1918.

Mannfeld's report shows his division in August planted 159,375 fingerling stock fish divided as follows: Small-mouth bass, 21,750; large-mouth bass, 43,650; bluegills, 60,000; rock bass, 18,300; yellow perch, 7,150; pike-perch, 4,350; channel catfish, 1,000; crappie, 1,475; yellow catfish, 1,100; and carp 600. Up to September 1 a total of 257,000 black bass baby fish had been distributed this year. The total output last year was 300,830 and it is expected this record will be equalled or beaten this season as planting continues throughout September.

DUPLEX — a new name —for a new type car you have never seen before!

A closed and open car combined — the advantages of both at an open car price!

STANDARD SIX DUPLEX-PHAETON

$1145

f. o. b. factories

No other car in its price-range has this combination of features:

New Duplex Body.

Real Balloon Tires.

Inclined valve engine.

Crankshaft and connecting rods machined on all surfaces for vibrationless balance.

Genuine chrome tanned Spanish leather.

All the usual equipment—plus a high grade clock, a dash gas gauge, automatic windshield wiper and lighting switch on steering wheel.

New Studebaker 4-Wheel Hydraulic Brakes—optional equipment. Automatic braking power.

ONE minute the DUPLEX is a comfortable, weather-tight closed car — deeply cushioned and richly appointed. In less than thirty seconds it becomes a delightful open car, with all the unhindered freedom every motorist likes and enjoys. Its double utility satisfied a most urgent need—it is as revolutionary as the self-starter and electric lights.

And the price is the same as that of the open car — with advantages in finish, fittings, room and comfort no open car could ever give!

Framed and shaped in steel, the upper part of the Duplex Body is built integrally with the lower part—it functions perfectly with the lower part—it is permanently beautiful.

But even without the "double-value" of the Duplex Body the new Standard Six would still be the same great Studebaker success. For its introduction marks the beginning of an era in the automobile industry when fine cars of real quality, plenty of room and comfort, impressive appearance, splendid power and performance may be had at a price the average buyer can afford to pay.

Surpassing mechanical superiority is obvious in every mile you drive it. Power, smoothness, silence you expect in any good six-cylinder car; but in this great car your expectations will be exceeded. You cannot anticipate such performance-perfection in any car even within hundreds of dollars of the new Studebaker Standard Six price.

The proof is easy to establish — drive it yourself, try it out on your favorite hill, test its speed on the straight-away. Sense what "ease of operation" really means in terms of effortless steering, velvety clutch action, easy gear shifting and instant brake application.

Experience what real comfort means in plenty of room, soft deep cushions; genuine balloon tires; long, supple springs.

The new Standard Six will tell you a story as it has never been told before by any other car at the Standard Six price.

Whether you are in the market now or next year—you should see this new Studebaker. It is a car that will revolutionize values in the automobile industry!

CHANEY SUES FOR A BIG JUDGMENT

Asks $19,000 in Cross Complaint in Case of Walter E. Smith Against
George Billings

HOLDS FIRST MORTGAGES

Alleges His Were Executed Prior to
Those Given to Mr. Smith—Notes
Are Past Due

Carlton Chaney, one of the defendants and alleged creditors in the various law suits pending against George Billings, Union township farmer who disappeared several months ago, has filed a cross complaint in a case of Walter E. Smith against Billings and others, in which he seeks judgment for $19,000.

The original suit filed several weeks ago by Mr. Smith against Billings and several others, was to foreclose on a mortgage, and among the defendants mentioned was Mr. Chaney.

The cross complaint filed today by Mr. Chaney alleges that the defendant Billings borrowed money from him and gave first mortgages on real estate, which was prior to the execution of mortgages obtained by Mr. Smith, and his cross complaint is to collect his part of the judgment, prior to the collection by Mr. Smith.

The cross complaint alleges that on March 24, 1924, he loaned Billings $5,750 on his promissory note, payable September 1 of this year, and that the note is past due. He seeks judgment on this note, with attorney fees and costs, totalling $7,500.

In the second paragraph, Mr. Chaney alleges that on March 25, 1924, another note was taken for $1,200, due September 1 of this year and unpaid. Also on the same date another note for $5,000 was given, and will be due November 25. On these notes, the second paragraph demands judgment for costs and attorney fees, totalling $11,500, or a combined total in the suit for $19,000.

In each case, the complaint alleges that as security Billings gave a mortgage on real estate, and sometime later a still further loan was advanced by Walter E. Smith, who is attempting to foreclose and collect the purpose of Mr. Chaney's action is to attempt to show that his mortgage was filed first and should be paid first.

In the case of the Dwiggin Wire and Fence company of Anderson against Charles D. Morgan, judgment was entered this morning by agreement for $3,508.12 and costs. (Continued on Page Two)

ousting of Senator BROOKHART PROPOSED

Iowa State Central Committee Will Decide Thursday Whether he Shall
be Allowed to Remain

DENIES ANY IDEA OF BOLTING

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 1.—Whether or not Senator Brookhart of Iowa will be ousted from the Republican party, will be determined at a meeting of the state central committee called for tomorrow R. B. Barnquist, state chairman announced today.

Barnquist called the committee meeting following Brookhart's attack on Charles G. Dawes, Republican candidate for vice president in Chicago yesterday.

Camp Perry, Ohio, Oct. 1.—"I have no intention of bolting the Republican party," Senator Brookhart of Iowa said on his arrival here today. "I am merely striving to eliminate the stand-patters from a party that was led by such patriots as Lincoln and Teddy Roosevelt. Understand me, I refer to the original Teddy."

Brookhart was eager that his letter asking Charles G. Dawes, republican vice presidential candidate, be withdrawn from the campaign, should not be construed as an attempt on his part to repudiate the Republican party.

Brookhart said the proposed reopening of the senate investigation of the department of justice is very remote.

MERCURY AT FREEZE

Not Much Damage Done to Crops, in Opinion of Farmers

Mercury again hit the freezing point in Rush county during the night which was the second time in September that the freezing temperature was reached, and the freeze was accompanied by a heavy frost. Although the frost and slight freeze was reported, it is not believed that any great damage was done, which was also the case a few nights ago when the slight freeze was reported. The coating of frost was clearly visible this morning on grass in the low places and also on house roofs, but most of the farmers stated that the frost did not contain any serious killing qualities, and that the freeze was not severe enough to do much damage.

LAST CHANCE TO REGISTER NEAR

Those Who are Not Qualified to Vote
November 4 Must Register on or Before Monday

THREE WAYS ARE SET OUT

Some Confusion Caused by Registration Notices Which Have Been

REGISTRATION FACTS

One Registration Day in
Rush County—Monday, October 6.

All who have changed precincts since the registration two years ago and all who have become of age since the last election should register.

It is necessary to register before you can vote. Registration boards will be in session in every voting precinct of the county on Registration Day.

Attention is being called to the necessity of registration in order to be able to vote at the general election on Tuesday, November 4.

If electors not qualified to vote do not register in one of the three methods prescribed by law on or before next Monday, they will not be permitted to vote.

Some confusion has been created in the minds of voters by the Notices of Registration, which were sent here by the state board of election commissioners and posted by the election officials in each precinct.

The last poster contains this statement: "Every voter of the precinct is required to register October 6th, the same being 29 days before the election."

Some complaints have been made at the county auditor's office and in some quarters a disposition has been shown to blame the county auditor, Phil Wilk. He explains that these notices were sent all over the state by the election commission and this broad statement was made so that every voter would be aroused to get the facts regarding registration and determine whether he was qualified to vote.

To be sure, every voter should see that he is properly registered, as any voter who is not registered at the close of the registration booth at 9 p. m., October 6, cannot vote.

Voters may register in any one of the following ways:

1. By appearing in person before the precinct registration board on one of the above mentioned days.

2. By properly filling out registration blank before registration day, swearing to it before any officer authorized by law to administer oaths and having an official seal, or having it certified to by two voters residing in the registrant's precinct, and placing it in the hands of a voter residing in the registrant's precinct, who must deposit it with the precinct registration board on registration day.

3. By mail, when proper registration papers have been sworn to before any officer authorized by law to administer oaths and having an official seal, or certified to by two voters who reside in the registrant's precinct. If mailed, registration papers should be sent to the precinct registration board, in care of a member of the board and should reach Continued on Page Three

Makes First Speech of Campaign in Michigan City and Will Cover the
Whole State

AT CONNERSVILLE NEXT WEEK

Senator James E. Watson of this city opened his Indiana speaking tour with an address at Michigan City Tuesday night, and from now on until the close of the campaign, he will be engaged every day except Sunday in addressing Indiana audiences.

It has been announced that the senior senator from Indiana will be the principal speaker at an old-fashioned rally in Connersville next Monday evening, October 6, and that he will speak at Greensburg on Thursday night, October 30. Senator Watson will speak here towards the end of the campaign.

Senator Watson, the main speaker at the Michigan City mass meeting, attacked the campaign utterances of John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee. Watson quoted statistics which, he said, proved that the Davis assault on the tariff was unfounded.

Declaring that President Coolidge's reelection is a "foregone conclusion," Watson said the main aim of the Republican party should be to elect a congress that will back the president up in his policies.

L. Marshall Volgar to Address First of Series of Meetings to Boost Corn Improvement

WON INTERNATIONAL PRIZE

Part of Movement "Under Way to Place Rush County in Lead as
Seed Corn County

As a part of the movement under way to place Rush county in the lead as a seed corn county, a meeting will be held every two weeks for farmers of the county in Rushville, at which leading corn growers of the state will speak.

The first meeting of the series will take place Saturday afternoon, October 4, at two o'clock in the court house and L. Marshall Volgar, international corn champion of Hope, Bartholomew county, Indiana, will speak.

Mr. Volgar's corn won first at the International Corn show last year and also the sweepstakes at the Indiana Corn show. He also took practically all of the corn prizes at the Indiana state fair this year.

Mr. Volgar is thus entitled to be called the best corn grower in the world and the committee feels that the corn growers of this county are very fortunate in being given the opportunity to hear him. He will bring much new information of value to corn men.

A special invitation has been issued to principals and agricultural teachers of the schools of the county and they have been urged to persuade their students to attend the meeting, because it is certain that they can receive valuable instruction from Mr. Volgar.

Just now a campaign is under way to persuade farmers to select and save corn for seed because seed corn will be very scarce next spring, due to the fact that good corn crops are rare this fall. It is believed that if farmers can be made to see the value of saving corn for seed, they will profit immensely by selling seed corn at high prices.

HAWKINS FAILS TO APPEAR FOR TRIAL

Judge Geiger Orders Bond of Principal Defendant in Portland Mail
Fraud Case Forfeited

LAST SEEN IN CINCINNATI

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 1.—Morton Hawkins of Portland, principal defendant in the Hawkins Mortgage Company mail fraud case, failed to appear in federal court today when the case was called for trial.

Judge Geiger ordered Hawkins' bond of $10,500 forfeited and continued the case until this afternoon.

Hawkins and eighteen other officers of the company and affiliated loan organizations are charged with defrauding home builders throughout the country out of $20,000,000.

Hawkins was last seen in Cincinnati at the Hotel Gibson last night, according to other defendants. It is not believed that District Attorney Elliot will consent for the case to go to trial without Hawkins. Elliot regards Hawkins as the master mind of the alleged scheme to defraud.

Attempts of various defendants to escape trial through legal technicalities failed.

REORGANIZATION INDICATED

Adj. Gen. Smith Orders "Weeding Out Dead Timber" in Guard

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 1.—Complete reorganization of the enlisted personnel of the Indiana National guard was foreshadowed today in a general order from Harry B. Smith, adjutant general to organization commanders.

Smith directed each officer to take immediate steps to "clear out the dead timber" and build up a more effective and stable organization. He told the organization commanders to weed out men who are lax in drill attendance or who have moved to other communities.

He called attention to the recent order of the militia bureau in Washington to stop enlistments to keep the guard within appropriations and told the organization commanders to weed out men who are lax in drill attendance or who have moved to other communities.

E. J. CHAMBERS SUCCUMBS TODAY

Former Resident and Farmer of Washington Township Expires at
His Home in Rushville

WIDELY KNOWN AS STOCKMAN

Served as First Chairman of Indiana
Live Stock Sanitary Board—
Owned Farm of 400 Acres

Edward J. Chambers, former resident and well known farmer of Washington township, died this morning shortly before eight o'clock at his home, 124 East Seventh street, this city, death being caused from heart trouble, with which he had been suffering for several weeks.

His death was rather sudden, and proved to be a shock to his numerous friends. Several weeks ago he took treatment at the Mayo sanatorium at Rochester, Minn., when his case was diagnosed as heart trouble.

He was a native of Bartholomew county, and was born May 18, 1870, being past 54 years of age. The deceased was educated in the schools of that county, and after the completion of his education, he took up farming with his father and remained there until 21 years of age.

He then went in the farming business for himself by renting a farm, engaging in feeding, stock raising and trading. In 1909 he moved to Rush county and purchased a farm of 240 acres in Washington township, and later increased his holdings to 400 acres, which he managed most successfully.

He was known over the state as one of the leading stock raisers, and in 1919 when the live stock sanitary board was created in Indiana, he was appointed by the governor to the board and served a term as the first chairman of that board.

He was married in 1906 to Ruby Grace Jones. In 1916 Mr. and Mrs. Chambers moved from the farm in Washington township to their residence in this city, where they since had resided.

The deceased was a member of the Main street Christian church, and in politics was a republican.

Besides the widow, the deceased is survived by his father and step mother, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Chambers of Columbus, Ind., four brothers, Charles and Guy of Bartholomew county, Thomas of south of Rushville, John H. of Maryland and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Fairchild of Denver and Mrs. Daisy Riggs of Bartholomew county.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at ten o'clock at the late residence, and burial will be made in a cemetery at Ellettsburg, Ind.

C. O. Robinson, Well Known Here,
Wins Distinction

Clarence O. Robinson, of Indianapolis, who is well known here, and who carried Nelle Bingham of this city, is rounding out his twenty-fifth year with the Fletcher American National bank in Indianapolis.

He started into the work in his teens as a messenger boy and has worked in the various departments, finally assuming charge of the Transit Department, which he managed for eight years, and at the present he is assistant cashier. In a recent issue of the Mid-Continent Banker of St. Louis, considerable space was devoted to the silver anniversary of Mr. Robinson.

CITY TEACHERS ROTARY'S GUESTS

Entertain With Dinner and Short
Program Tuesday Evening by Club Members and Wives

THE ARTISTS TRIO APPEARS

Judge Sparks Extends Greetings and Supt. H. B. Allman Responds in Behalf of Teachers

Teachers of the Rushville public schools were guests of the Rotary club Tuesday evening at the Social club for a dinner and short program afterwards.

Judge Will M. Sparks extended greetings for the club and wives of Rotarians, who were also guests, and H. B. Allman, superintendent of schools, responded in behalf of the teachers.

Two groups of songs and readings were presented by the Artists Trio, composed of Mrs. Clarence Walden of this city, vocalist; Miss Gladia Houghton of Connersville, reader, and Miss Brenda Kinsinger of this city, pianist, and each was given hearty applause.

Rotarians and their guests were summoned to the dining room of the club about seven o'clock by the piercing peals of a large bell similar to those that once did duty in the bellry of every school building. Each teacher was accompanied by a Rotarian and his wife.

Judge Sparks dwelt upon the opportunities and privileges that fall to the lot of teachers in guiding the lives of children and teaching them the fundamental truths of life.

Judge Sparks emphasized the importance of teachers being on the alert for the insidious propaganda that is being quietly started in the colleges and schools in favor of communism and socialism.

He called attention to a book that has been selected for reading circle work in Indiana, which is a disguised defense of socialism and is solely for the purpose of poisoning the minds of students against American institutions and customs and our form of government.

"But thank God," said the judge, "this book was turned down in Rush county."

The speaker told the teachers that the Rotary club was vitally interested in the public schools because of their part in developing the citizens of the future and stood ready at any time to be of any assistance possible.

Supt. Allman expressed for the teachers their very keen appreciation of being recognized in such a manner and he said that he felt the teachers of the public schools would be better able to carry on their daily tasks with the knowledge that their (Continued on Page Three)

DOING BUSINESS AT OLD STAND TODAY

Postoffice Still in Masonic Temple,
But Final Transfer Will be Made
Tonight

The Rushville postoffice was doing business at the old stand today.

But the room in the Masonic Temple building, that has been the home of the postoffice for ten years, was being abandoned today and by Thursday will be located in the Lollis hotel building, corner of Second and Morgan streets.

The postoffice equipment would have been moved during the night, but for the fact that representatives of the Keyless Lock company, who were sent here to move the fixtures, went to Shelbyville by mistake. A part of the fixtures were moved, however and more of them were taken to the new room during the day. Tonight the lock boxes will be removed and installed in the new location, and an additional section of lock boxes, which has been rented, will be installed.

Business as usual was the rule at the postoffice today and the change was being made without any interruption in the postal service whatever. All was dispatched and delivered with customary promptness as if nothing was transpiring at the postoffice.

NO CEREMONY IS TO MARK THE ACCEPTANCE OF AIRSHIP ZR-3

By WILLIAM J. MEYER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 1.—No ceremony is to mark acceptance of the ZR-3, the world's largest airship, when it is formally turned over to the United States by the German Government.

Delivery of the dirigible is regarded by Navy Department officials as the payment of a war debt and they do not believe there should be any show for such an occasion.

Early arrangements provide that the ZR-3 be met at sea by the Shenandoah and a squadron of airplanes and conveyed to the Lakehurst, N. J., landing field.

A small group of naval officers will

and accommodations for passengers are complete and comfortable. The vessel has space for 30 passengers. Sleeping accommodations compare favorably with the finest American Pullman cars. These quarters are arranged in the main cabin which is rigidly secured to the keel under the forward end of the ship. The passenger cabin is fitted with a modern kitchen, equipped with electrical stoves. The guests' room is divided into five compartments, each seating five persons comfortably. Quarters are geographically located so that mechanics and others will at all times be near the scene of their duties.

The ZR-3 also is fitted with bow mooring equipment so that it may be secured to a mast.

Based upon information from representatives at Friedrichshaven, Navy Department officials believe that ZR-3 will be able to make the air voyage from Germany to Lakehurst in about two and one-half days. Should there be no great headwinds, the exact route of the flight to the United States has not yet been determined. The stretch from Friedrichshaven to the east coast of the United States, a direct route is 3,500 miles. Should a southern course across France, passing Cape Finistere and the Azores Island to the Bermudas and northward to Lakehurst be taken, the ship will cover about 4,500 nautical miles. The southern route or a northern route passing south of Iceland and Greenland may be taken to avoid strong headwinds which are likely to be encountered in a direct flight.

The flight to America will be made without any intermediate stop and the ship will be navigated by an experienced personnel of the Zeppelin company. Dr. Hugo Eckener is to be chief of the expedition.

Guarding the ship on its trans-Atlantic voyage will be two U. S. Navy Battleships. These vessels also will radio hourly weather bulletins to the ZR-3. On its voyage over, the craft will be inflated with hydrogen, which is in contradiction with the policy of the U. S. Navy to use helium gas for airships. It was explained, however, that the ZR-3 will be flown to this country under the direction and at the responsibility of the Zeppelin company and will not become the property of the U. S. government until its delivery.

The Navy Department has made

known that shortly after its arrival here, the craft will be inflated with helium. It will remain in the mammoth Lakehurst hangar for several weeks for a general over-hauling and tightening up after the voyage over the Atlantic.

According to Navy Department officials, Capt. Steele will assume command of the ship after its arrival. It will be used extensively as a training vessel by the Navy and the Army Air Service. No schedule of flights in this country has thus far been made by the Navy Department.

The Navy Department already has purchased spare parts, engines, girders and other equipment needed for replacements in operation. The parts were purchased from the Zeppelin company at cost of about $75,000. Being built on condition that it would not be used for military purposes, the ultimate fate of the ZR-3 is not known. It may possibly be sold by the government to a commercial enterprise or may be turned over to the Post Office Department for use in the Air Mail Service.

Defends Kiss

Kissing is a natural expression of joy, and the superman and superwoman, last upon the earth, will kiss and laugh—joyous that they have each other. That is what the Rev. John Thompson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the Chicago Loop, told a meeting of church people there.

Designed especially for great endurance, five Maybach motors have been installed in the ship. The combined horsepower of the five motors is 2,000, capable of driving the craft at a speed of eighty miles an hour. They are of V shape and have 12 cylinders. All five motors may be reversed at the same time, so that the ship's forward progress can be halted very quickly.

Reversibility feature was introduced in engines designed for the U. S. Navy submarine chaser, during the World War and this is the first time this feature has been incorporated in an aviation engine.

The ship has many refinements of design, the result of almost 25 years continuous effort on the part of the Zeppelin company. The equipment

Services were appreciated.

He discussed the relationship between parents and teachers and called attention to the fact that though teachers were popularly credited with having children under their guidance more than parents, in reality pupils were under their control only about one-fourth of each day.

Supt. Allman placed the teacher first among the elements that make up the public school and also referred to the course of study, the physical equipment and organization.

He pointed out that the child learns more the first six years of its life than during any similar period and that parents, after all, have the most vital influence upon the lives of children, because they are in direct control when the child's first impressions are formed.

Supt. Allman pleaded for the same standards of morality and living that parents set up for themselves, instead of a separate standard for teachers.

The Artists Trio was given a most cordial reception. Mrs. Walden's solo work was especially pleasing and Miss Houghton's character sketches in costume were very entertaining. Insistent applause brought many encores to her sections.

Particularly apt was a reading, "Hats is Hats", in which she used a score of hats to describe the characters she represented. Miss Houghton's numbers in child dialect were very popular, as was one in which she depicted a typical sales girl in a department store.

Miss Kinsinger's piano number gave her a chance to exhibit her rare skill as a pianist and she was called back to play again. Miss Kinsinger played all of the accompaniments, a number of them being for Miss Houghton in readings.

The program closed with Miss Houghton reading "In Grandma's Time", and Mrs. Walden singing "Love's Old Sweet Song." Both were dressed in quaint costumes of almost a generation ago.

NINE DEATHS REPORTED IN PENNSYLVANIA FLOOD

Property Damage is Tremendous and Transportation Badly Interrupted Due to Washouts

MANY FAMILIES HOMELESS

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 1.—Flood conditions were prevalent in many sections in northern Pennsylvania today following the heaviest and most prolonged rain storm in years.

Property damage is tremendous and transportation badly interrupted as a result of washouts and landslides.

Many families are homeless and several towns partly under water. Nine deaths in the anthracite region during the past 48 hours were directly attributed to the storm and the resulting floods and slides. An aged woman was drowned, Miners Mills, near here, when a bridge was washed away and a man was electrocuted in Wyoming county when he came in contact with a fallen power wire.

Two men were drowned at Jermyr near Scranton, when a bridge was washed away and two others were drowned at Mauch Chunk.

Two Catawissa trainmen were killed near Bloomsburg when a landslide buried a pusher engine on the Reading railroad.

William Collins, Wilkesbarre, was drowned in Bowman's Creek when his automobile was carried into the water by a landslide.

THREE COUNTIES JOIN IN SOYBEAN MEETING

The Tri-County Soybean meeting in which Morgan, Putnam and Owen Counties participated recently was an all-day picnic meeting, attended by 300 farmers and their families. This meeting was on the Lee Coffman farm in the corner where the three counties meet. These three adjoining townships are townships where it has been difficult to get to since they lie in the farthest corners of the counties. The demonstration consisted of a variety plot and talks were made by the county agents of the three counties. The success of the affair gives promise of making this an annual meeting place.

In order to spread interest in soybean growing and familiarize the growers with the merits of different varieties, a soybean demonstration was held recently at the Jenkins Bros. farm in Wayne County. Charles Meharry, Attica, Secretary of the National Soybean Growers Association, explained the characteristics and adaptability of six varieties which were on test. Mr. Meharry favored the Manchus as a general purpose bean. He also said the new Dunfield bean as shown by results on the Jenkins farm, gave promise of being one of the best varieties. Dunfield beans do not shatter so badly and last year yielded at the rate of 30 bushels per acre on this farm. Following the field inspection, Mr. Meharry led 50 farmers in a round-table discussion of the soybean situation.

Not Every Mouse Can Scare an Elephant

THERE is a legend that elephants are afraid of mice. The contrast is amusing. It tickles the funny-bone and interests folks. Hence, it gains belief. Yet circus men will tell you that there are many safer places than an elephant's pen for a mouse bent on bullying.

But the fable lives as persistently as another fiction—the one that advertised goods cost more than goods not advertised. Here, too, the truth is the other way around.

As a matter of fact, manufacturers who advertise, increase the demand for their goods, which naturally increases their production. This means that each article they make is made for less money than otherwise would be possible. This in turn means that they can sell for less.

Merchants who advertise, bring crowds of people into their stores. The more customers, the quicker the merchant's stock is sold, and the sooner his cash is available for reinvestment. All this means that he can afford to do business on a smaller margin of profit than the man who depends on fewer sales to pay expenses and give a profit.

If you want to buy economically, buy advertised goods, and patronize merchants who advertise.

Advertisements tell you where to get your money's fullest worth

Senators Picked to Win First Game
Because of Harris' Promise to Pitch Walter Johnson

Shake The Left Mit
Washington, Oct. 1—Word went forth to the local citizenry today to shake Walter Johnson's left hand in congratulating him on achieving his ambition to pitch in a world's series.
Thousands of admirers
pumping away at his right hand threaten to put it out of commission.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, Oct. 1—Considering that the New York Giants and Washington Senators are almost evenly matched, Professional layers have established a price of 5 to 6, take your choice of either team to win the world series.

Remembering last year when the wise guys were stuck on the Yankees by putting up their money on McGraw to out-think the Yankees, the betters are not so sure that Buck Harris will be a mere child on the bench and around the field.

Odds of 11 to 10 on Washington to win the first game of the series are being offered as a result of Harris' promise to pitch Walter Johnson in the opener. Johnson was hurt in the last series at Boston when he was struck on the elbow with a pitched ball, but he is thought to have recovered.

Figuring that the Giants are more experienced and will not be in danger of getting rattled in tight places and that the Giants have more of a punch than the American League champions, practically all of the New York writers are picking the but unless they get the same spirit of the Senators, however, they'll lose.

The Giants squad will be divided today. Some of the players will take part in an exhibition game and the others will work out at the Polo Grounds under Captain Frank Frisch. The entire squad will leave tomorrow afternoon for Washington and will go through their stunts in the Washington ball park Friday.

Manager McGraw has not decided definitely about his opening line up.
He is not certain that Heine Groh will be able to take his regular place at third base, but it is almost certain that Frisch will play second.

McGraw may use two lineups during the series. Terry probably will play first base with Kelly in centerfield and Wilson in left field against right hand pitching with Meusel in left field, Wilson in center and Kelly on first against southpaw pitching.

Although New York hasn't gone into hysterics, the city is showing interest in the series in its casual way, mostly by protesting against the inability to get tickets in the first row.
James Tierney, secretary of the Giants, said today that the reserved seats were selling so fast that it looked like a capacity crowd for all three games.

Commissioner Landis, who is to be in charge of the series, left today for Washington to take part in the celebration that is to be staged there this afternoon when the Senators return home. The commissioner met here yesterday with the representatives of the two clubs and made all the final arrangements for the series.

FRANKLIN IS OUT TO DEFEAT BUTLER

Baptists and Bull Dogs Will Hold
Their Annual Football Contest
on Saturday

GAME IN INDIANAPOLIS

Franklin, Ind., Oct. 1—"Beat Butler!"

That is the cry of Franklin college students today as the time for the annual Franklin-Butler college football game draws nearer.

When the two teams mix Saturday at Indianapolis Franklin will be there in force to see the Baptists attempt to tame the Bull Dogs.

The atmosphere surrounding the Baptist camp, while not over-burdened with confidence is full of determination. The Franklinites are simply not predicting—just hoping and praying.

Following their victory over Indiana Central, 28 to 0 last Saturday at a seemingly easy fashion, the tense feeling on the Franklin campus was considerably relieved. The new men proved their worth, and the veterans showed they were up to standard.

One of the chief boasts of the Baptists is the strong backfield Ed.
Duggan has managed to organize. Of course Red Rohrbach and Fuzzy Vandivier are there, and then Chapin, Wilson, King and Underwood, all new men are going like a house on fire.

SPORT CHATTER

New York—Three major league pitchers had long winning streaks broken in the closing games of the season. Walter Johnson lost to the Red Sox after winning 13 straight.
Dazzy Vance was stopped by the Pittsburgh Pirates after winning 15 straight. Bill Doak was dropped by the Cubs after taking 10 in a row.

New York—By going through another season without missing a game
—Deacon Scott, the Ironman shortstop of the Yanks increased his remarkable run of consecutive games to 1,290 games. Scott hasn't missed a game since early in the season of 1916.

Richmond, Va.—"We didn't win the pennant, but we got a big kick by knocking the New York Yanks out of it," Ty Cobb, manager of the Detroit Tigers, said. Cobb won't pick the series winner, but he wants the Senators to win.

Boston—"I had intended at the start of the season to retire and buy into a minor league next year. Now
I don't know what I'll do," Walter Johnson, veteran Washington pitcher, said. "I'll have to get out Sunday and I want to take my wife and four kiddies to the Pacific Coast," he said.

New York—Ladkin, winner of the second international race Saturday, and Epinar, the French colt who finished second, will be shipped on the same train today to Latonia where they will meet as rivals for the third time in the last of the series on October 11.

Chicago—The Chicago city series of seven games gets under way here today. Alexander probably will pitch for the Cubs. Faber is slated to hurl for the White Sox.

Cobb, Ruth and Speaker are great ball players, but each of them has a certain weakness which bars him from the glorious estate of perfection. A player who comes close to meriting a perfect rating of 100 per cent is Bozz Artlett, Oakland player, starring in the Pacific Coast League. Artlett is equally gifted in all departments of play, throwing, hitting, running and that all-important quality, "baseball instinct." That's why they call him the 100 per cent minor leaguer.

REACHED AN AGREEMENT IN "BLOSSOM TIME"

Four Electoral Candidates Favorable
to R. M. LaFollette Removed

Bismark, N. D., Oct. 1—President
Coolidge took a paper advantage over Robert M. LaFollette in North Dakota as a result of an agreement over disputed electoral candidates.

The argument was settled and a stipulation made in Supreme Court, in effect removing four electoral candidates from the Republican ballot known to be favorable to LaFollette and substituting four others known to be favorable to the president. A form of ballot submitted by Secretary of State Thomas Hall was also approved.

As a result of the stipulation the ballot will carry a column for all
"LaFollette-Wheeler progressives."
There also will be columns containing the Republicans, Democrats, Non-Partisan Leaguers and members of the workers party of America.

At the Shubert Murat theatre in Indianapolis the week of October 6 the Messrs. Shubert will present their beautiful and memorable "Blossom Time," with a special cast made up from the choice artists of the two leading organizations, which (together) extended its run in New York City for over two and one-half years, and broke all previous records for financial takings in this field of stage production. By facts and figures collated in the Shubert office, the artistic as well as the pecuniary achievements of "Blossom Time" have beaten even such historic successes as "The Merry Widow," "The Chocolate Soldier," "Robin Hood" and every other operatic stage triumph of native tradition, not even excepting the almost prehistoric "Pineapple."

The reasons for success of prodigious proportions are not hard to find. Critics everywhere as well as the public succumbed to "Blossom Time," because, it was deemed worthy to be the forerunner of a new school, or epoch, in the "light music" field of the theatre; and such, indeed, it has proven to be. Its electrical success in New York was instantly duplicated in every city of the country, where it was presented and, as in Indianapolis, to great popular acclaim.

church will give a penny supper in

BANNING WITH ARRELL

Winter Fight for Dempsey

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 1—Jack Dempsey probably will be seen in action in Madison Square Garden before the winter ends. Tex Rickard wants to put the big fellow on in an indoor show and the champion is considering the offer. Tom Gibbons will be offered as the opponent and it is probable that Dempsey will accept.

Dempsey hasn't worked in an indoor fight since he stopped the late Bill Brennan in 12 rounds almost four years ago. That was before the time of million-dollar gates and half-million-dollar purses and since that time Dempsey's price couldn't be touched by the entire receipts of an indoor fight.

If Dempsey does accept an offer to appear in the Garden this winter it will be practically an admission on his part that the day of huge money boxing is over. Tex Rickard believes that day is passed and Dempsey owes his fortune to the

TRAINING SEVERAL HORSES

Casper Johnson Has Several Promising Prospects in Indianapolis

Casper Johnson, local race horse trainer, has several Rush county horses under training at his stables in Indianapolis and he says many of them look good for fast steppers.

Foremost among his horses is one owned by Will L. Brown of this city, which is Miss Peter Pearl, by Hedgewood Boy. This mare was given a try-out on the track the other day by Mr. Johnson and stepped the mile in 2:07, and was not hard pushed. A half mile was made in 1:01 according to Mr. Johnson. He expects to get this mare in shape, and predicts a grand circuit schedule for her next season. The other five or six horses in training are developing fast, he says.

Benny Leonard blew more than $150,000 because he sparred around so much with the promoters who wanted to stage a match between him and Mickey Walker, the veteran champion. The match was postponed once because the advance sale didn't promise Leonard the percentage he was figuring on and it had to be called off eventually for the same reason.

Boxing in the ball parks was a complete bust and the failure of the group that set out to "take" him probably has been the source of considerable amusement to Tex Rickard.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCOREBOARD

the Senator's clown coach who pitched two innings and held the Red Sox to three hits, and one run and who scored Washington's lone run on a "remarkable" three base hit while his teammates were sustaining a 13 to 1 lacing.

Rain caused cancellation of the double-header between the Athletics and the Yanks and the latter finishing in second place for the first time in four years, disbanded.

The choir of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church held their rehearsal Tuesday night and the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Amos Baxter, vice president, Mrs. Charles Fisher; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Robert Hinshaw. The retiring officers served refreshments and a very pleasant social evening was enjoyed.

The Ladies Aid Society of the St. Paul's M. E. church met Tuesday afternoon in the parlors of the basement of the church for their regular meeting. Mrs. Merrill Ball, Mrs. Jesse Poe and Mrs. Fred Beale were the hostesses. A short business session was held followed by a short program, including readings by Miss Mary Estelle Compton and a piano solo by Mary Frances Beale. Delicious refreshments were served at the conclusion of the program.

The employees of the Daily Republican enjoyed a delicious pitch-in supper Tuesday evening in the press room of the building, the affair being in honor of the birthday anniversary of Miss Laverne Conway. The long table at which covers were laid for thirteen, was decorated with crystal candle sticks with yellow tapers and was centered with a large birthday cake. Music was enjoyed during the repast and a social evening was enjoyed following the supper.

Mrs. Guy McBride entertained the members of the Tri Kappa sorority Tuesday evening with a pitch-in supper and miscellaneous shower at the home of her mother, Mrs. John Stiers, honoring Mrs. Howard Stiers, of Indianapolis, formerly Miss Helen Thomas. The thirty guests present were seated at small tables where the supper was served. They were adorned with fall flowers and candles in individual holders.

A business session was held, during which final plans were made for a benefit show to be given at the Castle theatre, October 13 and 14, the show being "Listen Lester." A report was given on the amount cleared from the charity card party given by the sorority last week, it being announced $50 was the net profit. The sorority wants to express their appreciation to all who aided in making the card party a success.

A most enjoyable time was spent at the social given by the young people of the First Presbyterian church Tuesday evening. The parlors of the church were decorated with fall flowers and many interesting games and stunts had been prepared. A novel feature was a special edition of the Daily Republican which was edited by the young people who were divided into groups. The latest telegraphic news, editorials, crime, accident, politics, society, fashion notes, the farmers department, questions and answers, city news, want adds, book review and fiction were each very cleverly written up and provoked much laughter when read. As the closing feature of the evening refreshments were served by the social committee.

DILEMMA OVER VOTING MACHINES IS SOLVED

Representative of Company Shows How Nine Tickets May be Placed on the Machine

PUTS TWO TO THE COLUMN

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 1.—The voting machine dilemma confronting the state election board was believed solved today.

J. A. Davis, representative of the voting machine company which sold seven column machines to a number of counties informed the board that a mechanical device had been perfected to permit placing nine tickets on the machine.

The device permits grouping of two short tickets in one column. It is now up to the board to determine which tickets shall be grouped in the columns on the voting machines.

With the filing of the American Party petition, nine tickets are certain to be in the field. The American Party petition was the seventh filed. The Republican and Democrats have not yet been filed.

The election board may experience some difficulty in selecting the minor tickets which are to be grouped.

Some of the leaders of the smaller parties have already protested that such grouping would be discriminatory against them.

Persons who have studied the voting machines, however, insist that the second row of tickets will be in full view of the voter and that there will be no grounds for protest against discrimination.

WILL TRY AGAIN

Rally Day at the First Presbyterian church last Sunday was a splendid success both in the Sunday school and morning service. There were many new faces in the audience, but the rain of the morning interfered with the taking of the picture which is to be used in the Centennial celebration next January.

Plans are being made to take the picture next Sunday after the morning service. It is desired that all members and former members and friends of the church be present. All members of the Sunday School are to stay and have part in this picture.

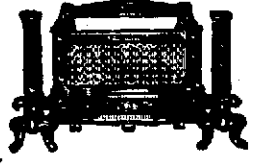

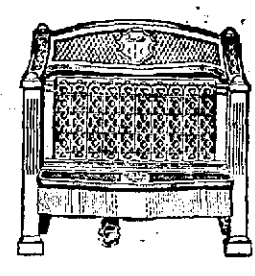

At the service next Sunday, new members are to be welcomed and parents may present their children for baptism. If there are others who would come into the church at that time, they should meet with the session after the prayer meeting Thursday night.

EVANGELIST IN FAREWELL

L. F. Robold Concludes Work at the Church of God

Evangelist L. F. Robold delivered his farewell sermon Tuesday night at the Church of God, corner of Ninth and Oliver streets, where he has been conducting the revival for the past two weeks. He spoke on the "Last Call," taking for his text, "My Spirit shall not always strive with man," Genesis 6:3. He said that God called each individual to serve him and if they hardened their hearts and did not heed the call soon they would get their last call which means death, if they do not give their hearts to God.

He spoke of how people back in olden times got their last call and how people were getting their last call today to serve God. He spoke on the many excuses people had made for not accepting the call of God. The services will continue this week in charge of the pastor, W. S. Sutherland. Services tonight at 7:30 o'clock and Capt. Myers of the Salvation Army will be present with his music. Everybody is welcome.

NOTICE FOR IMPROVEMENT OF HIGHWAY IN ANDERSON TOWNSHIP, RUSH COUNTY, INDIANA

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in my office for the grading and paving with crushed stone of a certain highway in Anderson Township, Rush County, State of Indiana, which petition is signed by Fred Shelhorn et al, and is in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

In the matter of the petition for the improvement of a public highway in Anderson township, Rush County, Indiana by Fred Shelhorn et al, To the Board of Commissioners, Rush County, Indiana:

We, the undersigned, would represent and show to your Honorable Board that this petition is signed by more than fifty adult freeholders and legal voters of Anderson Township, Rush County, Indiana; that there is now an existing public highway over and upon the following described route, to-wit: Beginning at the north-west corner of Section 24, Township 12 north, Range 9 east, and running thence south on the Section line between Sections 24 and 23, Township 12 north, Range 9 east, to the south-west corner of said Section 24.

Your petitioners would further represent and show that said public highway as now established is approximately 32 feet in width and connects at the north end thereof with an improved free macadam road known as the Joseph Green et al Highway and on the south with the Roy Tynes et al Highway and said highway as above described is approximately one mile in length. That the same is now traversed and used by a Township school delivery conveyance, and a rural free mail delivery route and is a greatly used public highway, and that the said highway is an important connecting highway between said improved highways, as above described. That the improvement of said highway will be of great public utility and the costs thereof will be less than the benefits derived therefrom; that there is no incorporated town or city in Anderson Township and that said public highway sought to be improved does not run into or through the limits of any incorporated city or town and is less than three miles in length and that the same should be improved by grading, draining and paving same upon the traveled portion thereof to the width of sixteen feet with crushed stone and stone screenings, and that all necessary drains, side drains, bridges, culverts and sewers should be placed therein and said highway so constructed as to make said public highway a complete macadam road.

Your petitioners would further show that on account of the existing bonded indebtedness for the building of highways in said Anderson Township that it is not possible to construct said highway within the two percent (2%) limit as provided by the statutes of the State of Indiana, but that said highway can be constructed within the four percent (4%) limit as provided by said statutes and said petitioners, therefore, ask that the question of establishing and constructing such highway shall be submitted to a vote of the electors of Anderson Township as now provided by law. Fred Shelhorn,

Hollis Howell, Ed Stewart, William Howell, Wm. C. Austen, Daniel Power, H. H. Goddard, Earl L. Henderson, Wm. Martin, F. O. Hillis, Geo. Julian, Joe Green, J. M. Brooks, Walter S. Tynes, J. B. Said petition will be presented to the Board of Commissioners of Rush

UNITED STATES MUST IMPROVE HER COURT

Statement Made by Indiana Prison
Warden if Crime is to be Checked
in Country

DENOUNCED CHICAGO TRIAL

Michigan City, Ind., Oct. 1.—"If crime is to be checked, if your travesty on law is to be ended America must improve her courts."

This was the declaration today of Edward J. Fogarty, warden at the Indiana State Prison here and one of the foremost authorities on criminology in the country.

Fogarty was bitter in denouncing the outcome of the Leopold-Loeb trial in Chicago and said he believed Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb should have received the death penalty for the murder of Robert Franks. Fogarty has the reputation of one of the most human prison officials, and whose institution at Michigan City is a model for lenient treatment of prisoners.

"It is the leniency of our courts in penalizing crime that is enticing criminals," Fogarty declared. "We must get back to the English method of swift and sure justice before crime can be checked in America." Asked what he would suggest Fogarty merely smiled and said he had a plan.

"But what's the use; they'd think me crazy," he said.

"They thought I was crazy when I inaugurated my system here, but I want to say I have better order and more of a college than you will find at many universities."

"If I were a retired business man seeking relaxation I would rather spend two weeks here than at French Lick," Fogarty chuckled.
